Progress at Willkie

The last of the old--the shape of the new.

What is PROGRESS? In this day and age we hear much about progress but often do not stop to think about how it affects us as individuals. The physical, academic, and social aspects of Willkie are proof of the progress within our community.

We are a part of this progress whether it be moving up from a Freshman to a Concentration on that book report!

Senior, becoming an athletic star, or earning a scholastic honor. True merit is the result of individual advancement. Our generation is contributing to the changing world about us.

What is progress?--"Progress is the activity of today and the assurance of tomorrow." Emerson.

Break another record, John?

Progress Within These Halls

The improvements in our school have inspired a new vitality in the school spirit. Winning the CIC Horseshoe, getting a new bulletin board for the front hall, expanding Willkie's campus, increasing our staff, adding new courses, obtaining study equipment, and having a foreign exchange student at Willkie all contributed to the Progress within These Halls.

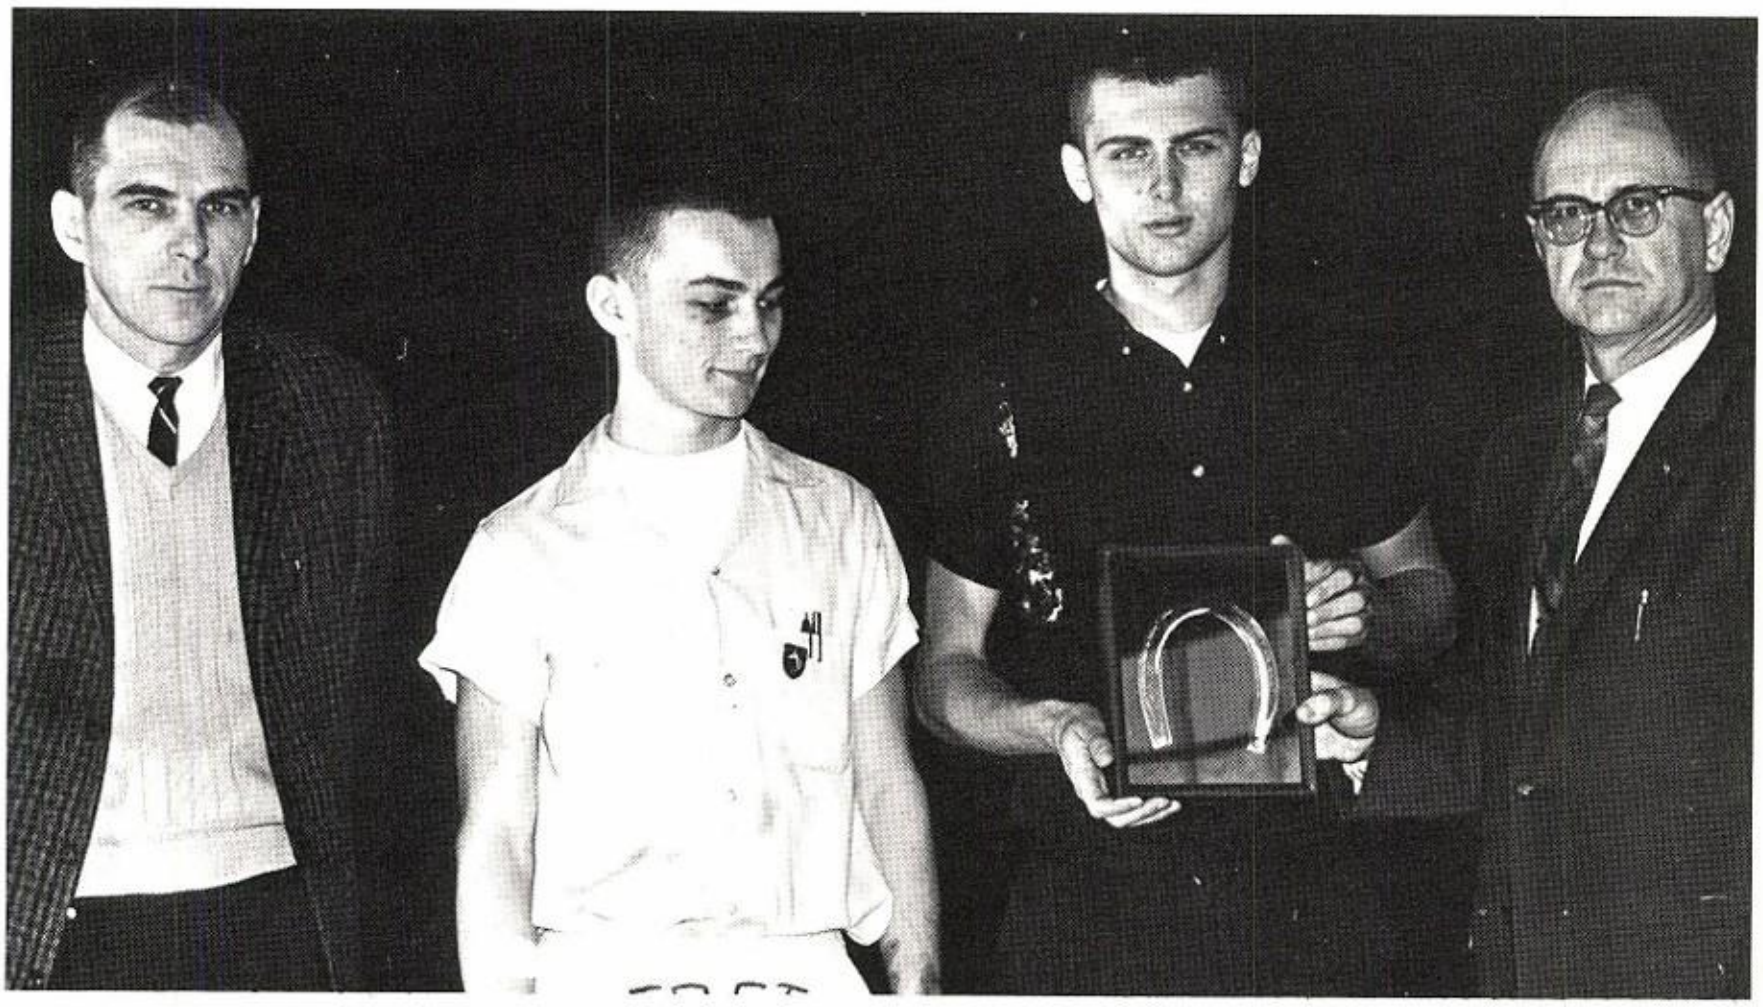
The faculty and each student played great parts in molding our lives for the future.

Auditorium program helps further appreciation and understanding.

College Night helps many to decide.

A heated panel discussion in U. S. History aids in learning both sides of the question.

Our Panthers worked hard to bring the Silver Horseshoe back to Willkie.



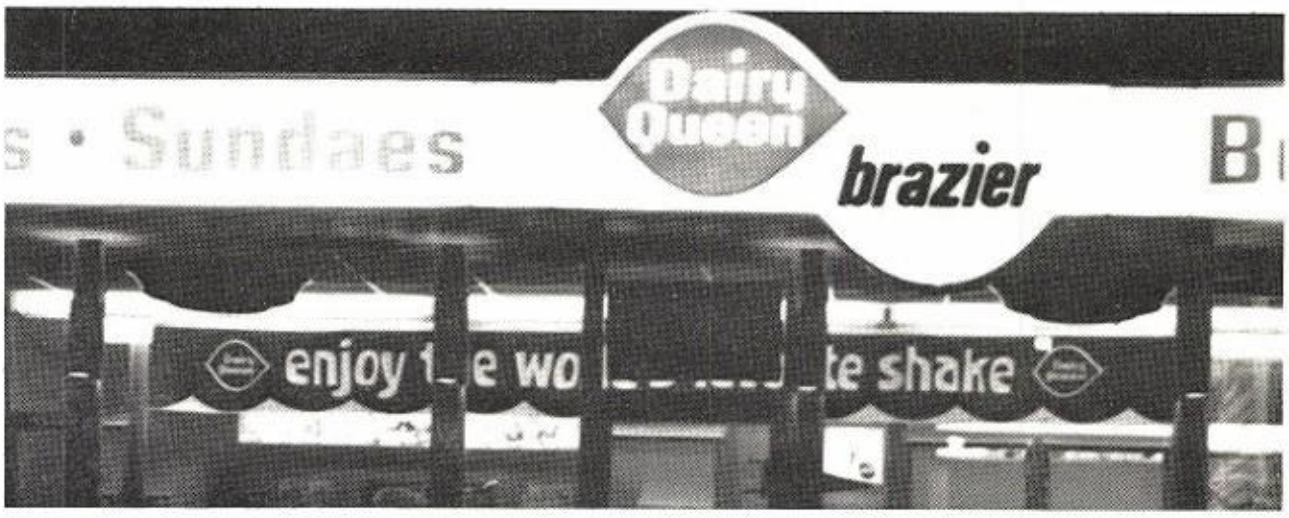
Our progress has extended even to Arboga, Sweden.

Isn't my order ready yet?

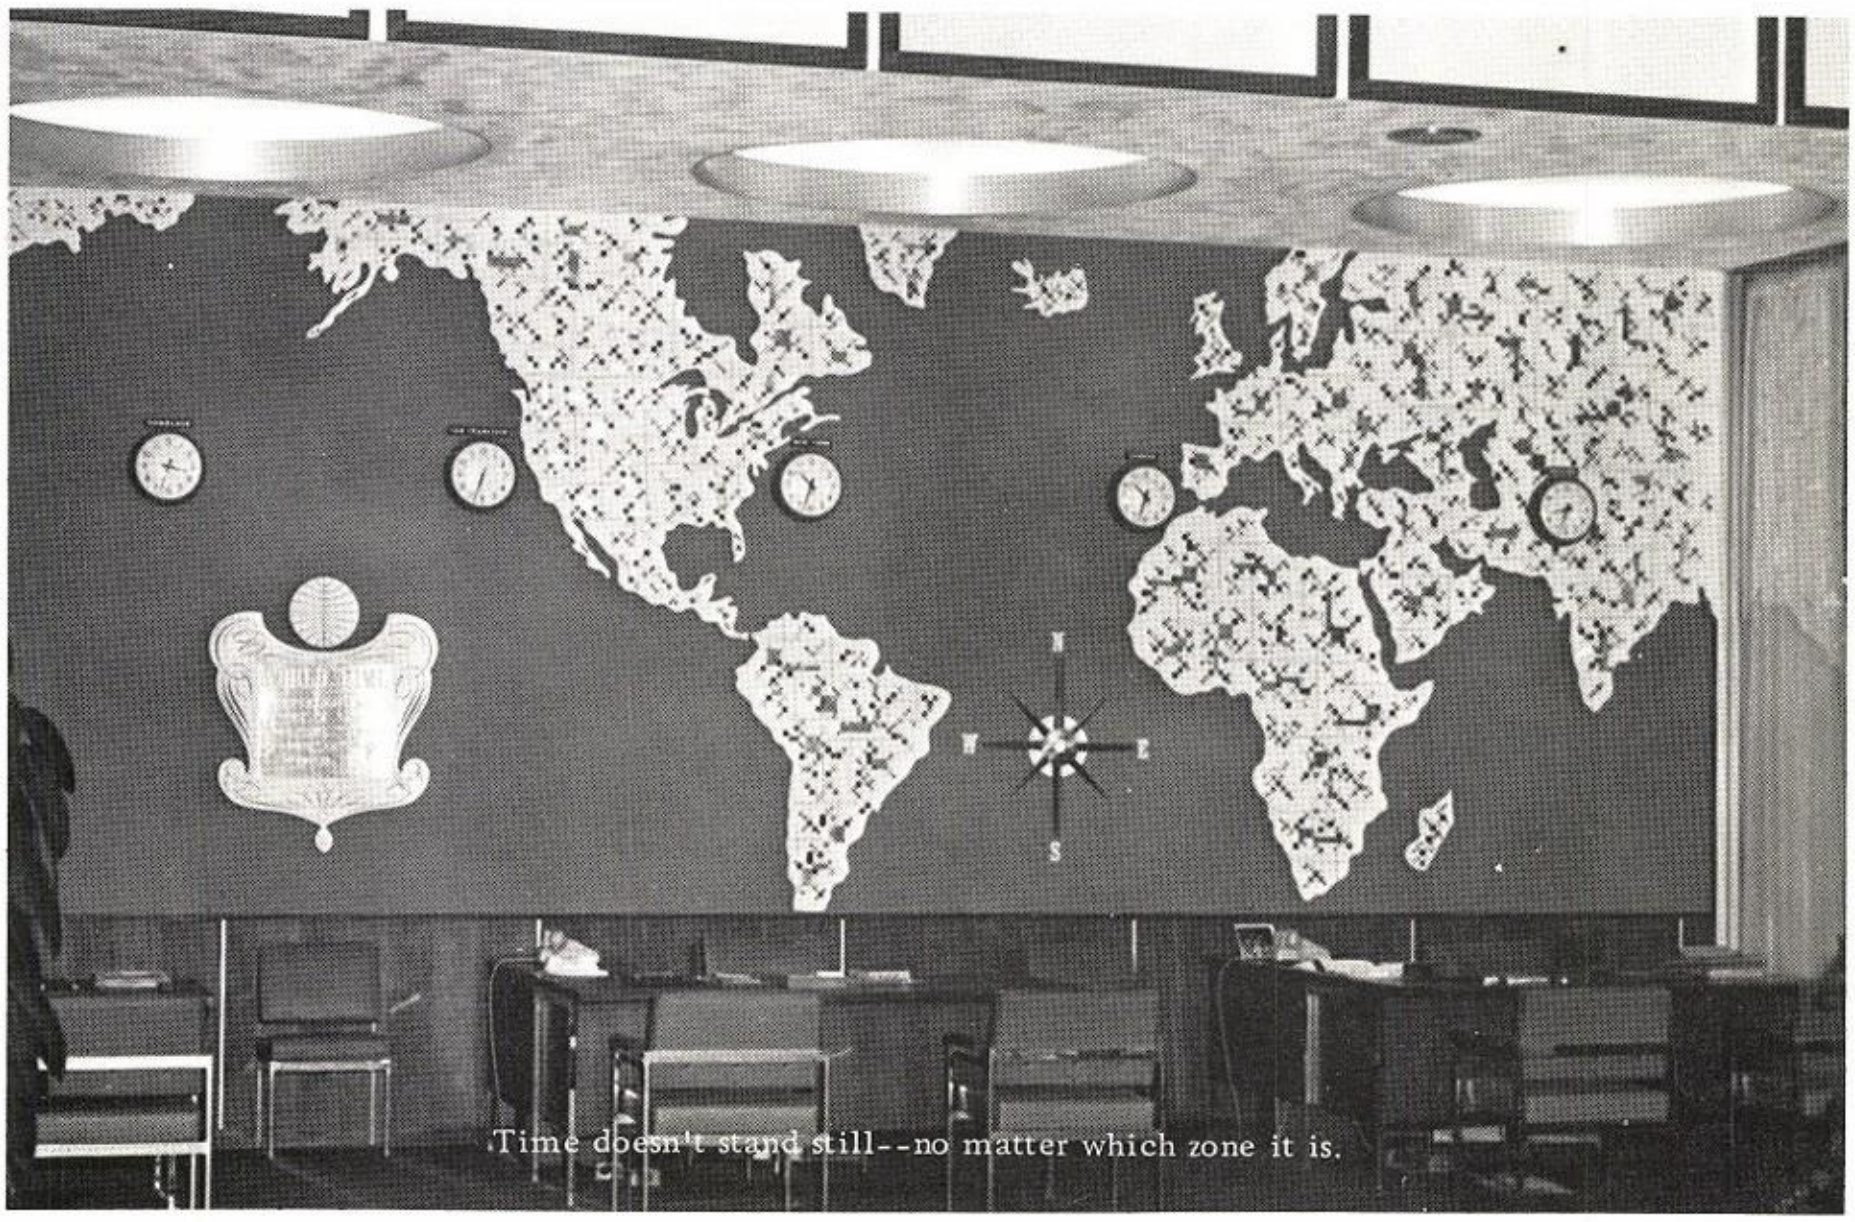
Progress Within Our Town

As we advance, so does our community. While you are "riding around," do you notice the physical changes that have taken place in our town? The addition of a radio station, remodeled buildings, new shopping center, and new sidewalks have been a step forward.

A quick wash and then on your way.



A new business and a good treat.



Time doesn't stand still--no matter which zone it is.

"Three Coins in a Fountain"

As the guests of the 1964 Prom awaited the all-night event, many hours of toil were being put into the task of making "Three Coins in a Fountain" a magnificent Roman splendor. The sponsors, class, and chairmen--Harry Beeman, Ann Fortson; and Kevin Tam--took great pride in the presentation of beauty and enjoyment. May 15, 1964, marked the date of the dance which took place at the Elks Club.

Junior workers touched up murals of Roman scenery.

Tam's Warehouse was a scene of industrious work.

Reflected the Splendor of Ancient Rome

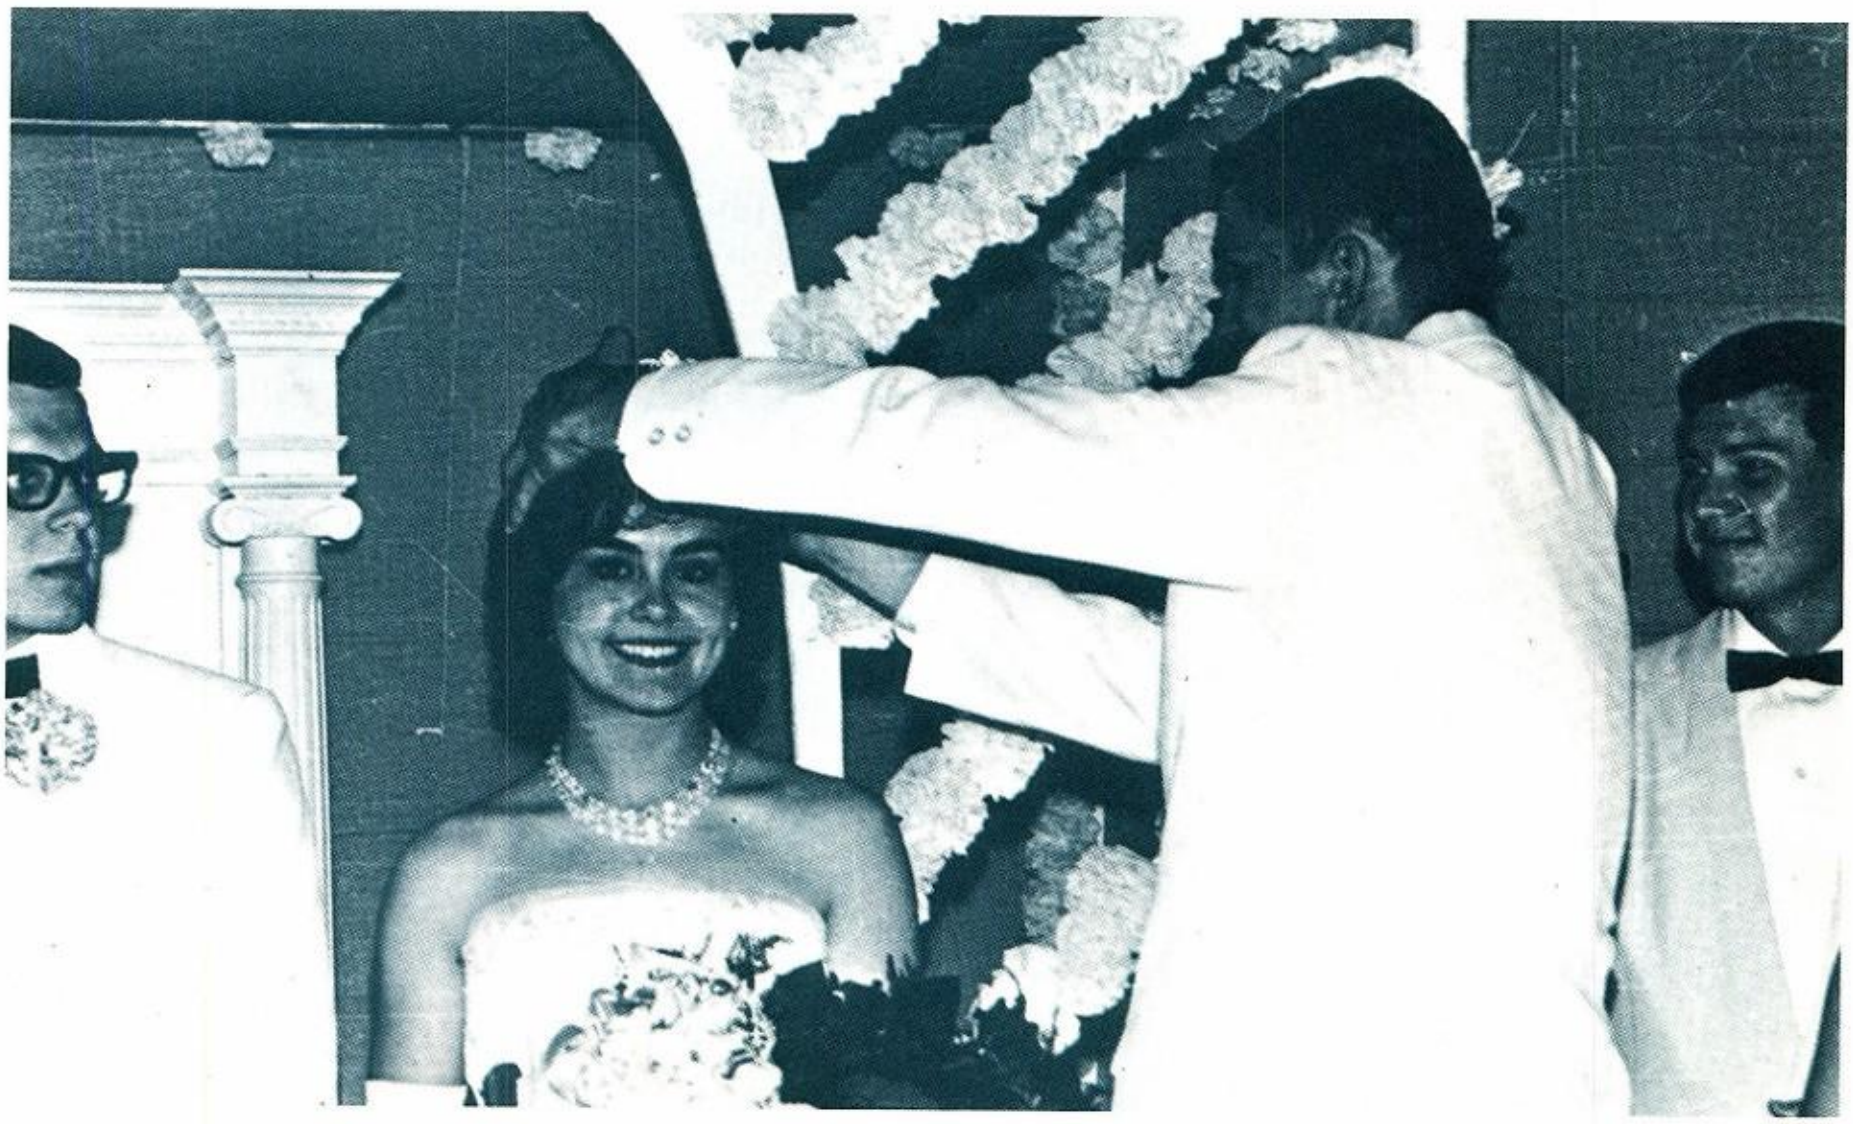
Through two archways couples passed into the Parthenon. Marble columns surrounded by greenery and Roman scenery depicted by murals combined to carry out the theme of the ballroom. A large fountain surrounded by flowers and greenery was on the patio.

Crowned queen by Junior Class President Rick Cannon, Pam Jones reigned from her beautiful Roman throne.

Later a movie, a dance, and breakfast were provided by the service clubs of Elwood.

They could have danced all night.

As her escort looked on, Pam Jones was crowned by Junior President, Rick Cannon.



Successful Broadway Comedy and

"Simon Stimson is the worst scandal that ever hit town."

"Emily--would you like to have an ice cream soda, or something?"

The class of '65 set a precedent with the presentation of "Our Town," a three-act Broadway drama.

Simplicity set the tone of the Junior Class Play which took place in the late 1800's and early 1900's. Thornton Wilder escaped the formal barrier of modern stage and centered his play around two families, the Gibbses and the Webbs. His theme--people are too occupied with petty thoughts to understand the true joy and happiness in life--is enacted by Emily.

Under the direction of Mrs. Barr and help of Mavis Kintzel and Martha Oldag, this cast gave a performance that kept their audience spellbound.

Tragedy Appear on Willkie High Stage

Will the real Charley's Aunt please stand up?

A world famous comedy, "Charley's Aunt," by Brandon Thomas was presented as the Senior Class Play by the Class of '65.

Jack Chesney and Charles Wykeham fall desperately in love and invite their young ladies to their rooms to meet Charley's aunt from Brazil. The aunt sends word that she must defer her visit. The boys know that the girls will not stay there unchaperoned, and they do not want to give up this opportunity for them to declare their love. So they recruit a college chum to pose as the aunt. After the fraud is introduced to all, the real aunt arrives and assumes another name. The resulting comic confusion climaxes to a happy ending.

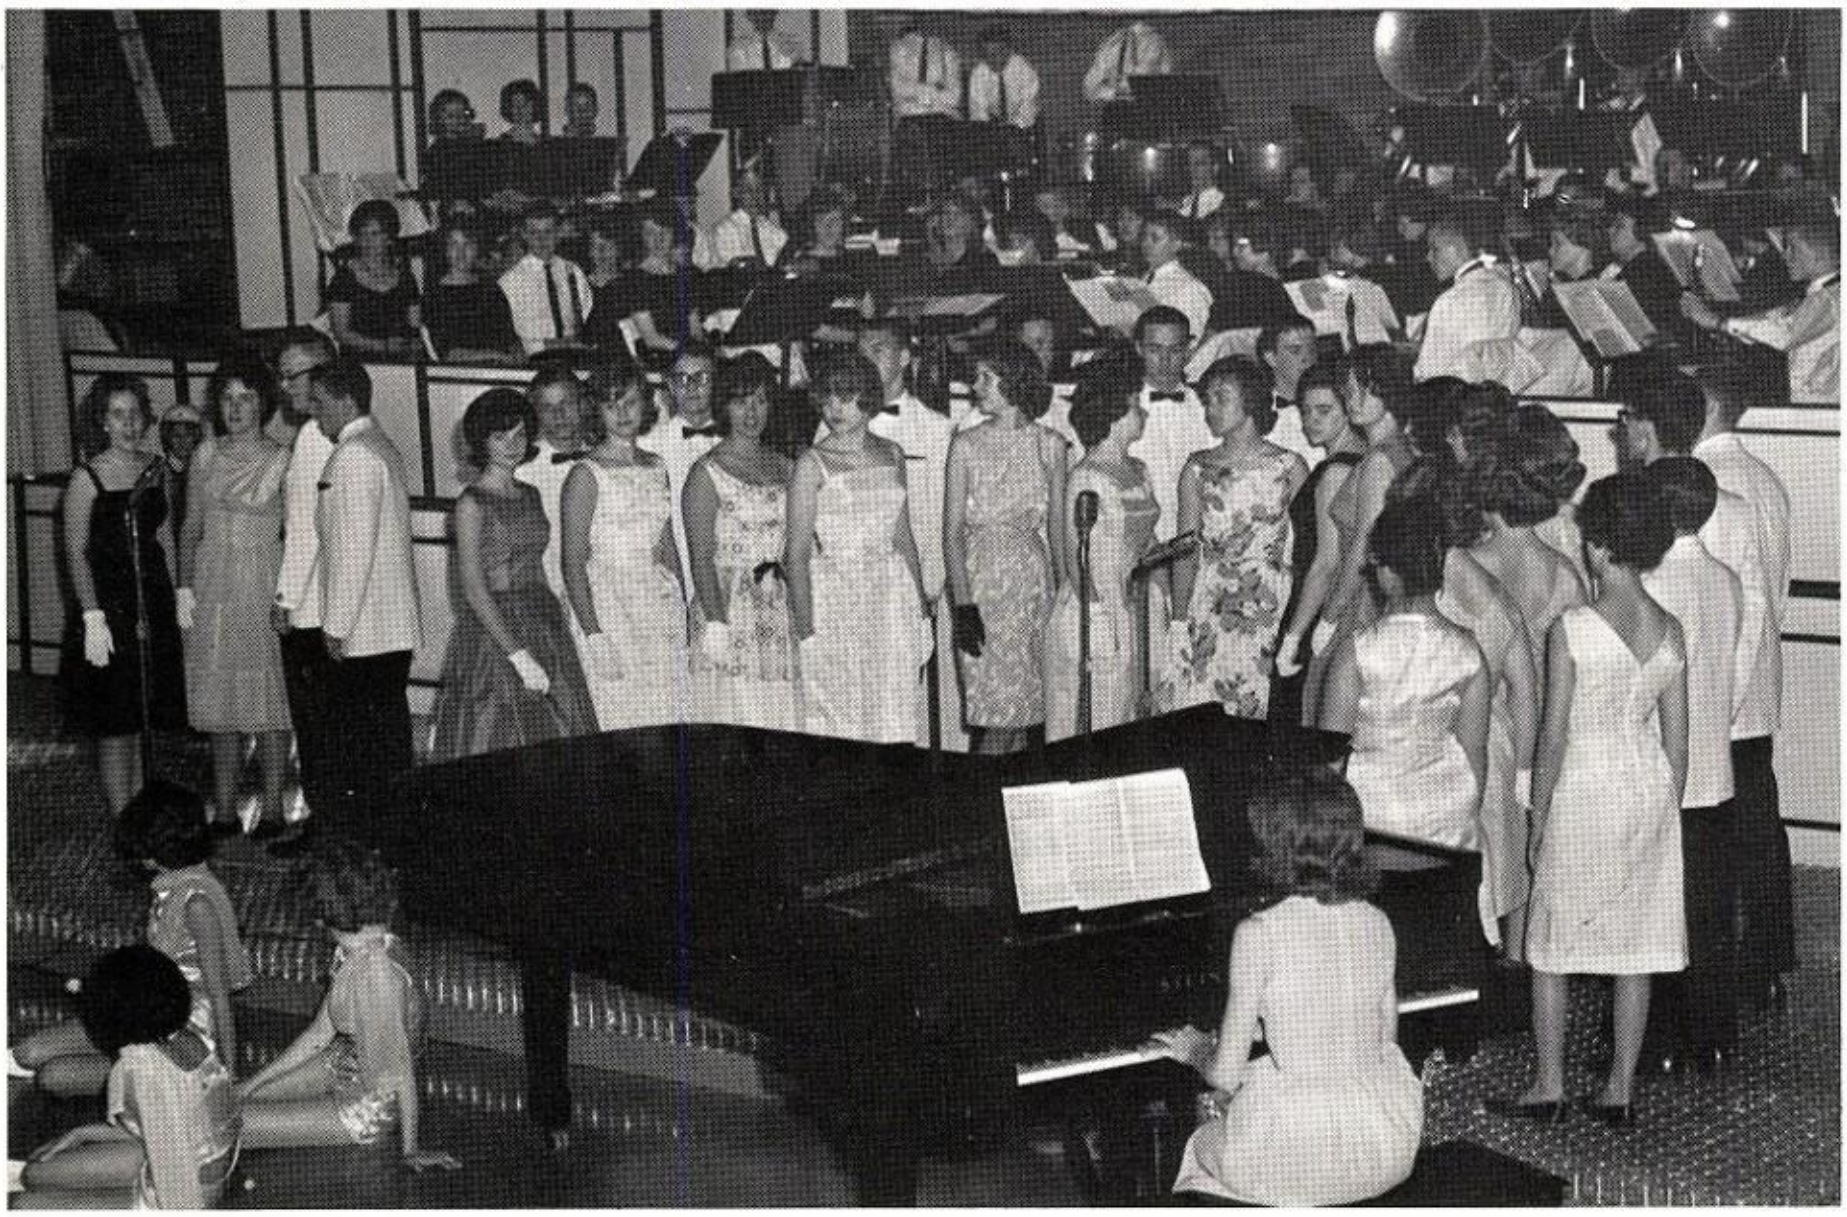
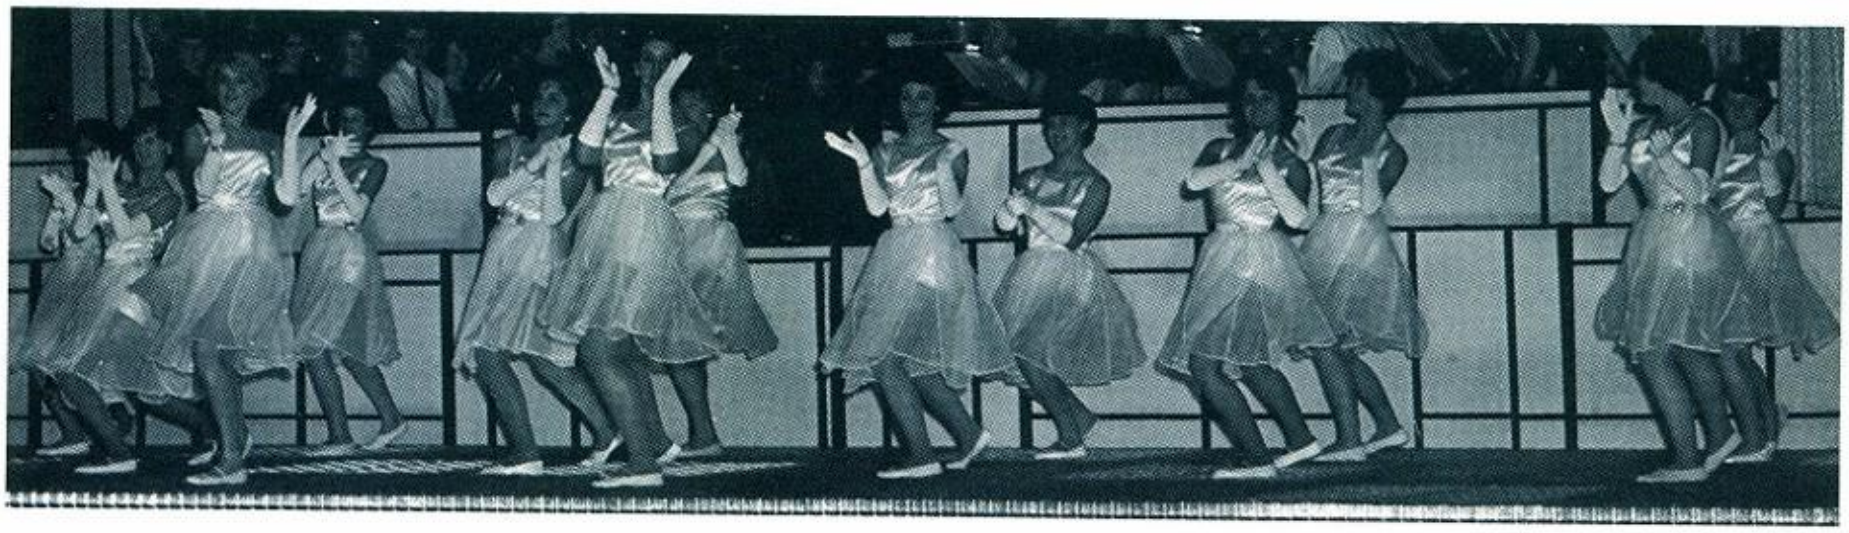
A glimpse of the Panther Band Varieties 1964.



The Panther Band Varieties of 1964



On the brilliantly lighted stage Willkie majorettes danced to "St. Louis Blues."

A multi-colored, lighted glass stage, made of 12,000 baby food jars, was a highlight of the Panther Band Varieties of 1964. The stage, which measured 12 feet by 40 feet, was designed by Mr. Rex Jenkins.

Pam Jones, who was featured at the Steinway playing "The Dream of Olwen," and Jim Baker, who played "Carnival of Venice" on the trumpet, were the soloists of the evening.

The band's performance of such numbers as "Bandology," "Manhattan Tower," and "The Typewriter" added to the evening's entertainment. "Little Red Caboose," a novelty black-light number, featured the majorettes and the band.

Elwood's own Beatles, advanced choir, and Peter, Paul, and Mary performed during the Hootenanny segment of the program. Another part of the Variety Show was devoted to Indiana and Cole Porter.

Mr. Brugger, Mr. Jenkins, Mr. Stites, and Tudy Smith contributed hours of thought and labor for this evening of musical fun and enjoyment, which was ably announced by Master and Mistress of Ceremonies, Greg Gardner and Susie Mosbaugh.

The Hootenanny section proved to be a favorite.

Homecoming Queen Margaret Wingrove and her court: Martha Oldag, Gracelee Hevron, Cindy Connor, and Ann Fortson.

A tradition of splendor and honor was seen in every aspect of the 1964 Homecoming. Festivities started at one o'clock with the Panther and Cadet Bands leading the parade of the five hopeful queen candidates.

Action at the field proved exciting as the Panthers romped over the Alexandria Tigers, 27-13, for our fourth straight gridiron victory.

The highlight of the half-time activities was the crowning of the 1964 queen, Miss Margaret Wingrove, by her predecessor, Miss Marsha Buzzard.

Portraying the theme of "Stardust," the Den was turned into a heavenly paradise for the queen, her court, and all who attended the climax of a stirring day.

A crowd gathered as the band marched down Anderson Street.

Senior fullback, Lyle Robinson, charged across the goal line to insure another Panther victory.

It has been said that "Happiness is confidence in one's self." Aiding the students of Willkie High in their quest for confidence are the many diversified activities which are supervised by capable, talented, and interested adults.

Formed with the purpose of acquainting students with others who share common interests and of entrusting to them the responsibilities of the school, these organizations play a vital part in the development of any high school student. Whether practicing for Thespian plays, collecting coffee for Sunshine projects, marching in the damp chill of football weather, or singing the magnificent strains of Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," the students are enriched with senses of fellowship, service, and accomplishment which are, indeed, the keys to progress.

PROGRESS IN ORGANIZATIONS

Hours of Thought and Effort Combined

What is a yearbook? To the students it is a book filled with an unlimited amount of signatures and memories, to the teachers it is a reference book, while to the staff it is a source of responsibility, work, and pride.

A non-social organization, the Crescent staff devoted their free time and lunch hours to produce an outstanding piece of literary work. Endless hours of planning page layouts, identifying pictures, authoring running heads, typing, and worrying were spent by the co-editors Ann Fortson and Nina Runyan. Assuming the financial responsibilities of the Crescent was Kathy Colcord, business manager, who spent hours collecting money, getting ads, and sending statements for billed ads. Photographers for the Crescent were Don Cabe and Dave Hood. Taking candid shots or group pictures, these two boys were always exceptionally busy and in great demand.

A special acknowledgment goes to the Crescent sponsor, Mrs. Hilda Chapman. Mrs. Chapman efficiently and energetically gave her time and help to everyone. Through her experience and unselfishness she guided the staff to many deadlines and through the frustrated moments.

As in every yearbook, this one is filled with recollections of pleasant memories and is the result of the efforts of many people. The sponsor, editors, the business manager, section editors, committee members, student body and advertisers have contributed their talents and aid to make one memorable book . . . The 1965 Crescent.

The co-editors, Nina Runyan and Ann Fortson, and the business manager, Kathy Colcord, spent a great deal of their time and effort for the 1965 Crescent.

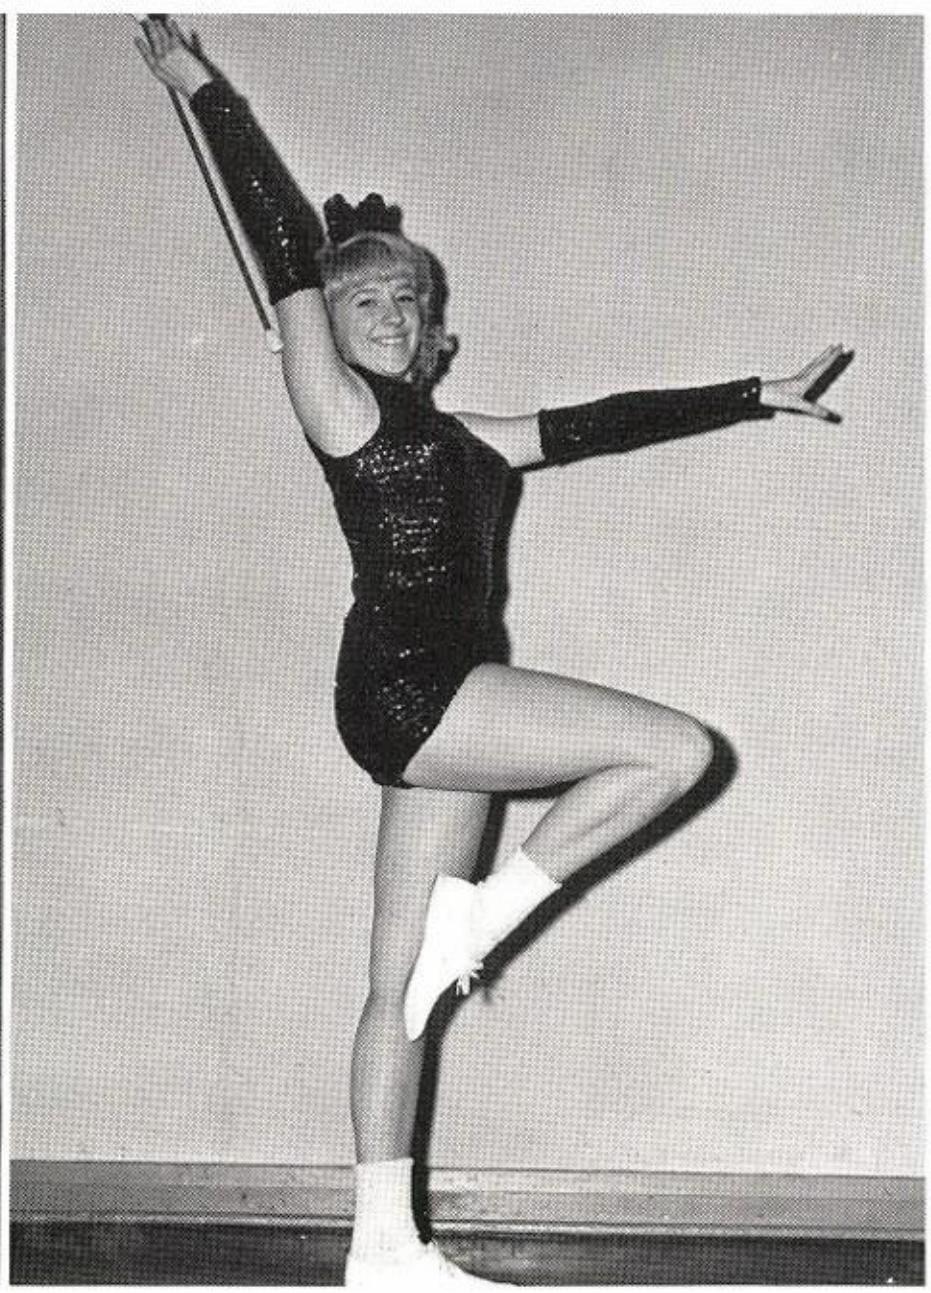
Panther Band Adds Variety, Vitality,

Mike Wilson took the duties of Head Drum Major, a new position in the Willkie Band this year.

Jane Clark, Head Majorette, displayed her strutting abilities at the various band performances.



Band

and Vivaciousness to Willkie High

Practice and more practice could serve as a motto of such an outstanding group as our Panther Band.

While the heat of the hot August sun is beating upon us, the Panther Band is busy preparing the annual State Fair Show. This last year the band placed thirteenth in this contest. Besides the State Fair Show, the Panther Band also performs for basketball and football games, Christmas and Spring concerts, and the Variety Show.

To solve the problems which arise the band has a band board made up of two members of each class and band officials plus the directors, Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Brugger.

The Band Board helps promote band activities and projects such as the purchase of new uniforms for next year.

The Choir and Glee Club Featured Full-

The choir once again displayed the talent and hard work which went into this year's Christmas program. "The Messiah" by Handel was presented to the public in Willkie's auditorium on December 13, 1964. The "Hallelujah Chorus" and several other songs by Handel which have been popular for countless generations were featured in this program of entertainment.

Under the direction of John Stites, the choir has added to the culture of our high school and community. One of the highlights of the year was the annual County Choral Festival.

A raffle and the sale of adorned key chains were among the projects the choir undertook to earn money for their many expenses.

This year's choir officers were: Gary Shaw, president, Tony Baker, vice-president, Janet Piirto, secretary, Annette Langford, scrapbook keeper, Mr. Stites, director, and Linda Justice, treasurer.

With sweet reverberating chords the Girls Glee Club presented excerpts of the "Nutcracker Suite" during the Christmas program which was presented to the public.

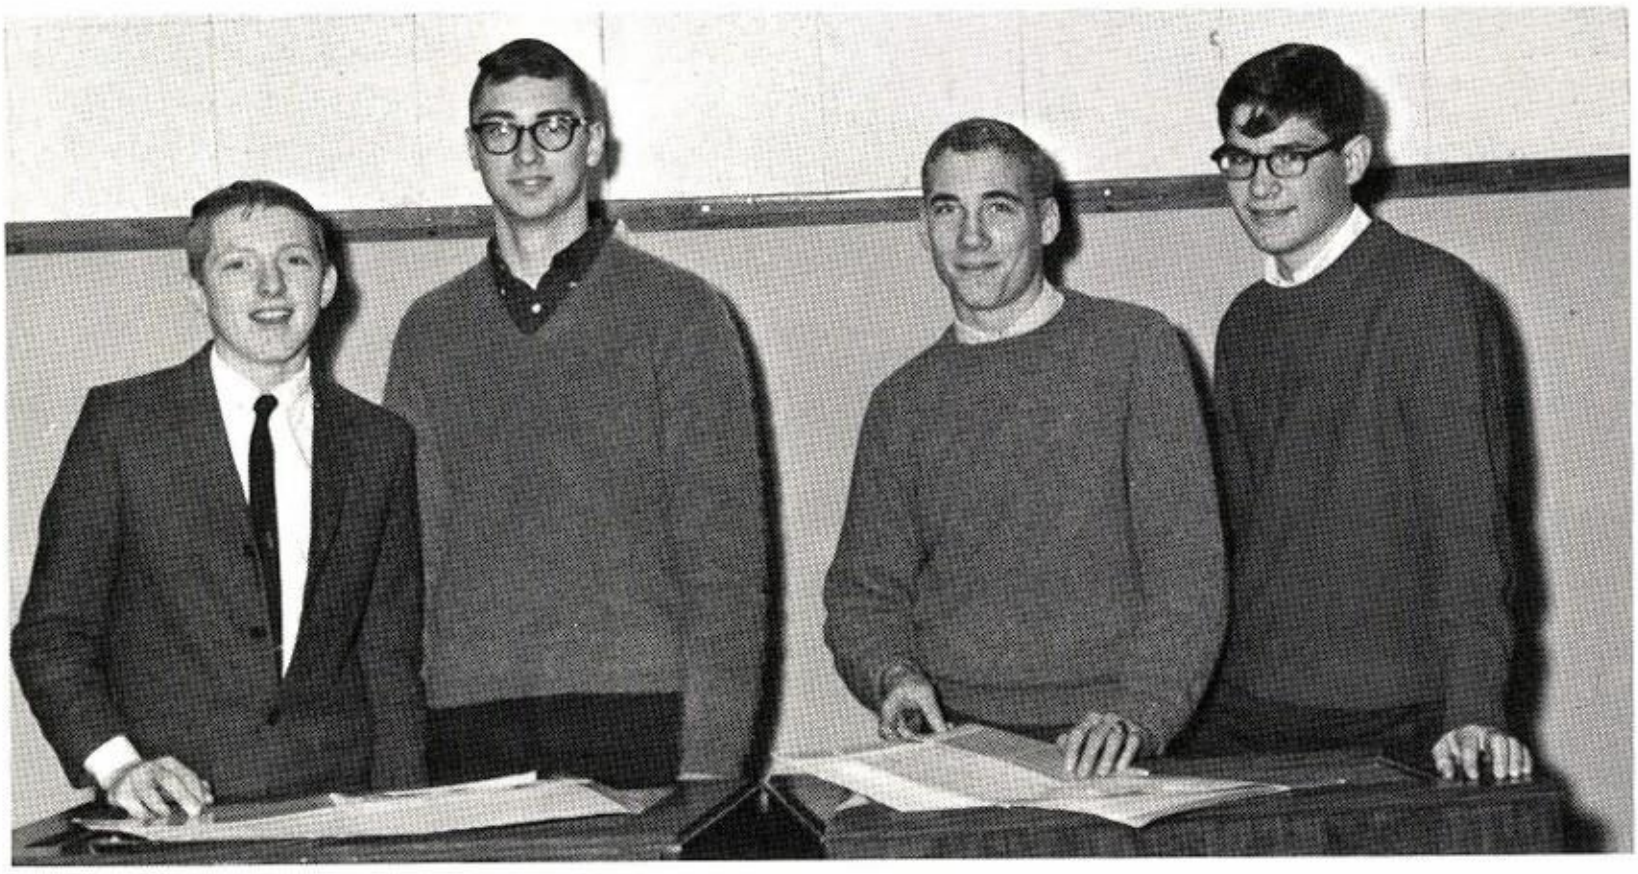
"In the Misty Moonlight" set the theme for their annual dance sponsored by the club. This is one of their annual money-making projects and this year it proved to be very successful.

Their versatility and mastery of music reflected the capabilities of their director, Mr. John Stites, who led them in the public appearance.

Participation in the annual County Choral Festival took a great deal of practice and preparation. But the rewards are always worth their efforts.

Officers elected for the year were: Sharon Abernathy, president, Linda Castro, vice-president, Kay Wesley, secretary, Deena Ford, treasurer and Carol Crull, scrapbook keeper.

Research, Practice, Self Assurance Aided Debaters



Varsity members: Lynn Murray, Bill Bishop, Mark Winings, and John Fortson.

With four Sophomores on the varsity debate team, Willkie High School has much to look forward to in the future. The topic for debate this year is "Possession of Nuclear Weapons." This is standard for all schools and will be used in debates for the entire year.

Being on the team menas more than just discussing the problem with others; a lot of research is involved and time is needed to meet all the demands that may be placed upon one of the team during a debate. Each member must be very familiar with the subject involved.

Our debate team this year has done well in all the meets that they attended. The team is very capably coached by Mr. Donald Brown.

Debate team members are: Chuck Lucas, Clifford Lehman, Sam Han, Joe Scott, Mr. Brown, sponsor, John Fortson, Lynn Murray, Bill Bishop, and Mark Winings.

Thespian Talent Was Displayed Throughout Elwood

This organization has become very active through the years of its existence at Willkie High. It is one of the few clubs which has a long waiting list of people who would like to join. The purpose of the club is to promote a greater interest in the art of drama. Troop 58, under the direction of Mr. Donald Brown, presents a festival of plays each year in order to exhibit its talent. The troop of 1964-65 was given the privilege of performing at one of our basketball games.

Thespian apprentices must earn ten points before becoming a member. This is done by taking part in plays, directing plays, and helping the production in many other ways. An initiation ceremony is held in the spring for those who have gained Thespian status and the incoming officers.

The Thespian officers are: Nina Runyan, president; Jane Cornelius, secretary; Ann Fortson, vice-president; Ann Webb, recorder; Bill Bishop, treasurer; and Mr. Donald Brown, Sponsor.

Many changes took place with the Megaphone this year. Under the direction of Mrs. Hiatt and with the help of Editor Jan Curtis and Assistant Editor Steve Poole. The Journalism class had the responsibility of putting out the Megaphone and Willkie World. On a self-supporting basis, the Megaphone was able to purchase a new camera and typewriter to aid them.

This year's Megaphone boasted an average circulation of 475 copies per publication.

This year also saw the development of apprenticeships. Each of the six major staff members train an apprentice to take his place the following year.

One of the projects for the future is to send two people to the Indiana Journalism Conference at Indiana University.

One of the largest high school organizations is the Latin Club, under the direction of Mrs. Sharp and leadership of Jerry Hardebeck and David Sherman.

Latin Club promotes a better understanding of the Roman people, their culture and literature. The members study the customs and dress of the ancient peoples and are able to become more acquainted with them.

Playing games with Latin words, singing Christmas carols in Latin, and an annual banquet are all a part of the many activities of this club.

Initiation is held for all new members at the close of the first semester. The Motto for the Latin Club is "Ad astra per Aspera" of "To the Stars through difficulties."

The Latin officers are: Jerry Hardebeck, consul, David Sherman, consul, Brent Miller, quaestor, and Cathy Svendsen, scriptor.

Through capable leadership the French Club has been very active. The officers are: Jan Smith, president, Susan Pearson, secretary, Jean Doan, vice-president, and Terry Hicks, treasurer.

The Le Cercle Francais, under the supervision of Mr. Herndon, has had a splendid year packed with activities. They started by writing their own constitution and ordering pins. As an added Christmas treat, along with the Latin and Spanish clubs, they sang carols in their own particular languages. For the first time a play was given by the French and Spanish Clubs. It was in three languages; French, Spanish, and English.

This year the French Awards were given at a French Club Banquet. The students, their parents, and the faculty were invited.

French was taught differently this year, the emphasis being on conversation and speech rather than grammar. To aid the students in this new type of study, a new language machine was purchased by the school. A study of the history and culture of the French increased an interest in the students for these people.

Buenos dias and other familiar Spanish terms were sometimes heard when the Spanish students got carried away with their knowledge. Studying the languages of our neighboring Latin American countries provides a knowledge of their culture and simple phases so essential in the modern world of international chaos.

One of the most progressive clubs in Willkie High, the calendar was always decked with the activities of the Spanish Club.

Corresponding with a school in Venezuela, combining efforts with the French Club on various activities, singing Christmas carols in Spanish composed the major activities of this club.

With Mrs. Guerrero as their sponsor, Gary Hipes, Cathy Walkup, Lisa Winings, and Brian Reichart were elected as president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

F.T.A. Officers include: Rose Ann Smith, Ellery Mangas, Tonda Whittkamper, Jude Magers, Reed Bannon, and Mickie Kennedy.

Recognizing the need for an organization which envelops the talents of students who desire to become teachers, the Future Teachers of America was formally originated this year at Willkie High.

This group has been very active in sponsoring teas and welcoming such groups as the North Central Committee and the foreign exchange students who visited with us on International Day.

Elected to guide the group in their initial year were: Ellery Mangas, president, Tonda Whittkamper, vice-president, Mickie Kennedy, secretary, Reed Bannon, treasurer, and Rose Ann Smith, parliamentarian.

Our guidance counselors originated this group and under their sponsorship set a pattern for this new organization to follow. The sponsors are: Mr. Barnett, Miss House, and Mr. Baker.

and Leadership in Activities

Shepard, L. Oliver, G. Hipes, and M. Burton.

Leadership, scholarship, service, and character are the basic ideals of one of the most honored and respected organizations in any school, the National Honor Society.

Juniors and Seniors are chosen each year as provisional members, with the seniors being installed as permanent members at the end of the year if the qualifications of the society have been met.

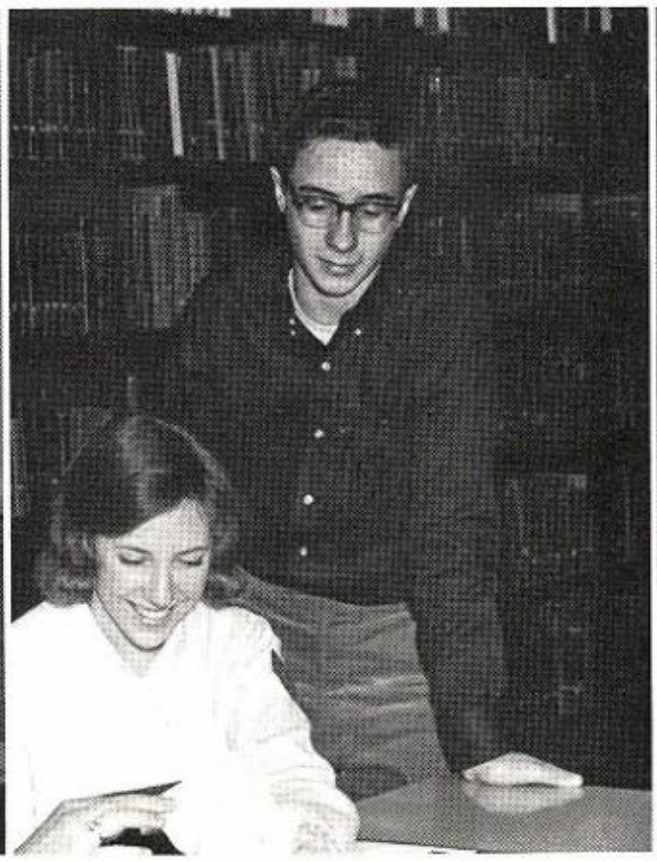
Scholarship is recognized as a high ideal but not as the only basis of a well-rounded individual. Nevertheless a B- or higher average must be maintained to be considered as a member.

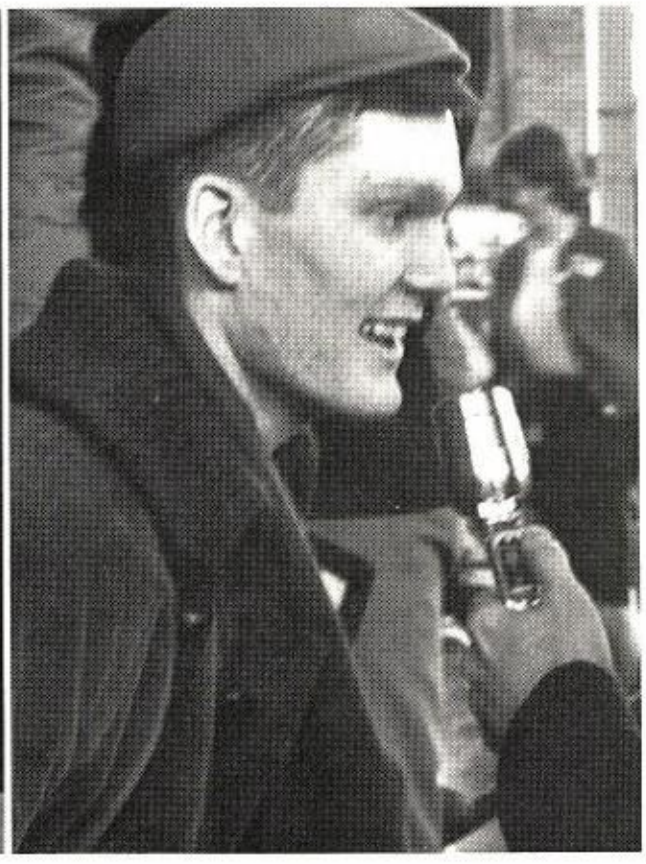
A willingness to work on projects which give no material rewards denotes the service of a member.

Character is recognized as the individual's definite pattern of behavior.

Thus, the members of this order are justly proud to be a part of the National Honor Society.

Margaret Wingrove, Martha Oldag, William Frye, and Rick Cannon, as members of the National Honor Society take an active interest in school activities.





Sunshine Society Exists for Service to "Others"

ROW ONE: B. Hardebeck, B. Wegehoft, C. Kilgore, J. Hobbs, S. Stokes, M. Willhoite, A. Davenport.
ROW TWO: S. Abernathy, S. Latshaw, S. Beeman, E. Galbreath, T. Hopper, F. Pace, S. Fetz, M. Walsh.
ROW THREE: S. Willhoite, B. McNelly, R. Tatum, B. Phelps, K. Colcord, T. Jordan, J. Smith, R. Cornwell, K. Sanders, N. Schwear.

The officers of the Sunshine Society are: Becky Cornwell, recording secretary, Barbara Phelps, business secretary, Sharon Abernathy, vice-president, Kathy Colcord, president, Martha Walsh and Naomi Schwear, Sponsors.

The goal of the Sunshine Society is well exemplified by their motto "Others." Their creed explains the purpose of this organization. Some of the activities of the Sunshine Society include making favors for hospital trays, giving Christmas baskets, and having a Christmas party. Sunshine Society was one of the local organizations who collected instant coffee for the mental hospital.

"With love in my heart, forgetting myself, and with charity for all, I will make the object of my life helpfulness and kindness to others. I shall try to fit myself to give intelligent service in making my community a safer and more beautiful place in which to live. Thus will my own life become rich and complete." The girls in the Sunshine Society at Willkie High truly try to make their community aware of the satisfaction gained through charity and kindness.

Key Club and F.F.A. Honor Civic and Vocational Duties

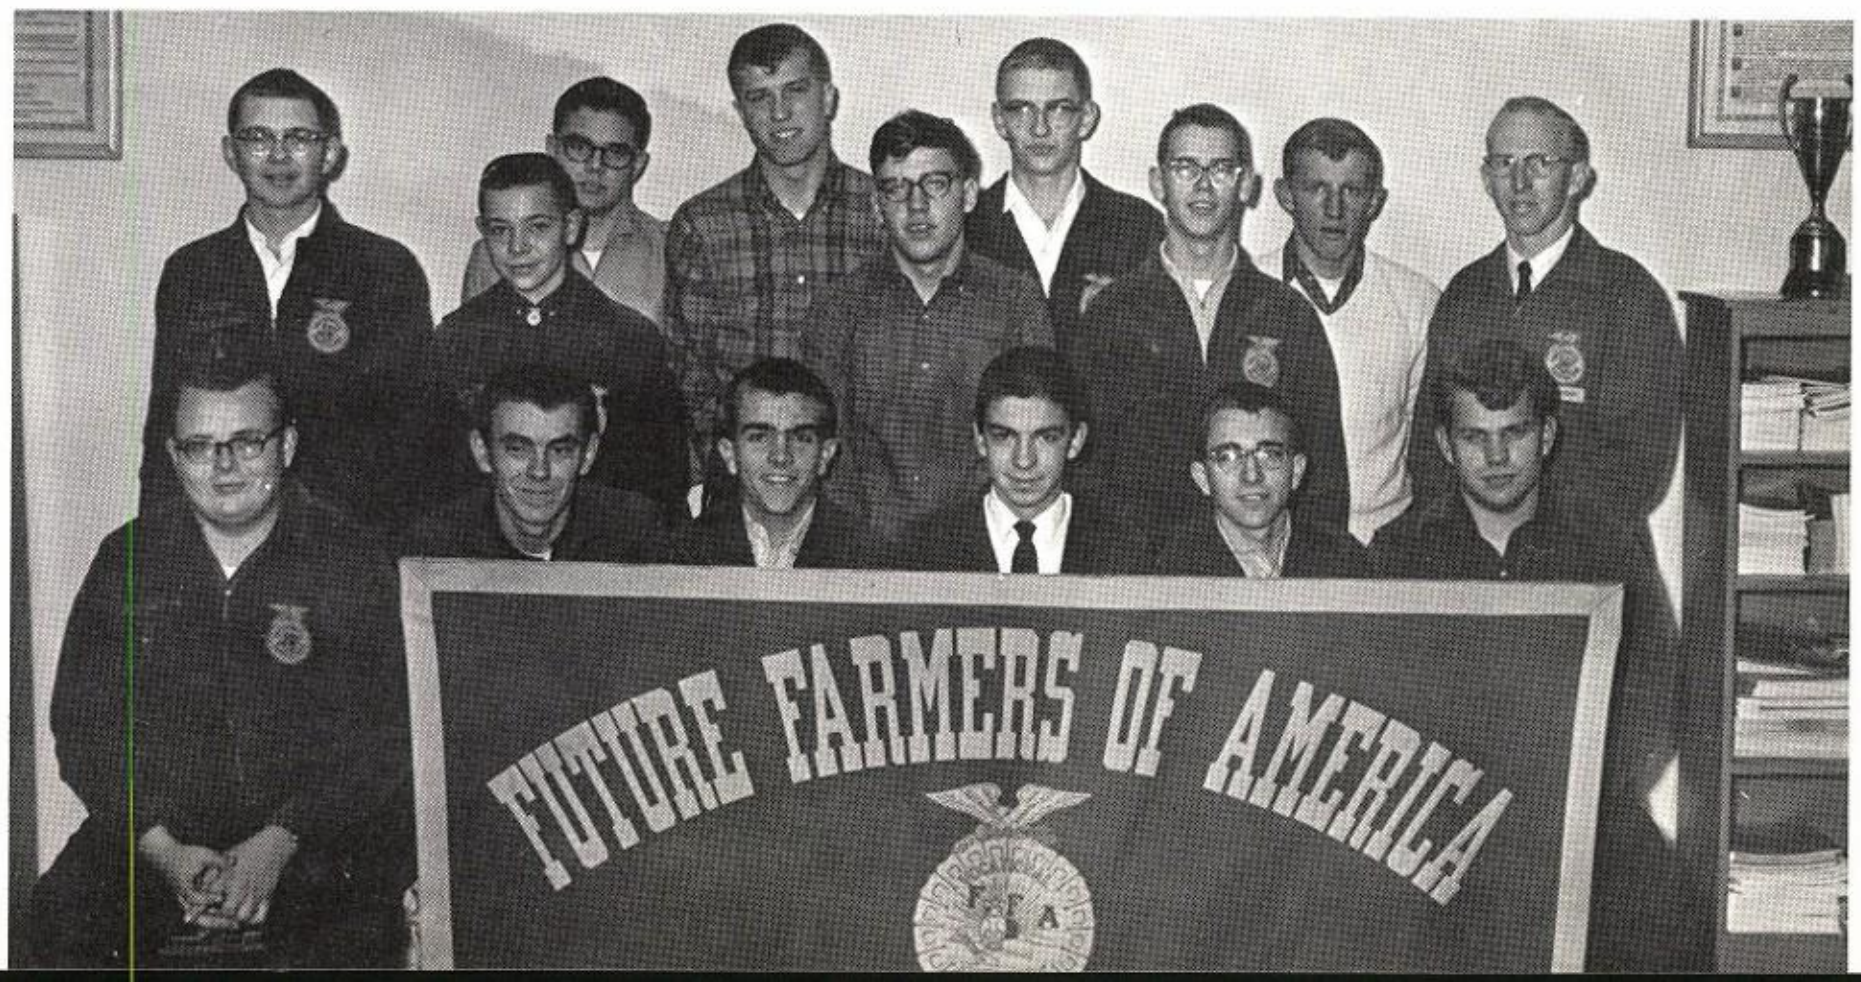
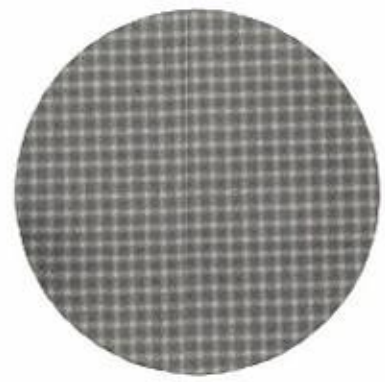
The Key Club is active in the community selling peanuts and aiding needly people. They are sponsored by the Kiwanis and are led by Steve Parry, president, Mike Manis, vice-president, Phil Anderson, secretary, Tony Baker, treasurer and Mr. Charles Herndon, faculty sponsor. Great pride is taken by the members for the work done. The biggest money making project this year for the FFA was a 38 acre crop of soya beans. The club had been active in judging and basketball. The highlight of this year was the Father-Son Banquet where the National FFA president spoke. Officers of the FFA are: Jerry Williams, president, Don Butler, vice-president, Mike McCorkle, secretary, Terry Williams, treasurer, Chester Jarrell, reporter, Jerry Knotts, sentinel, and Mr. Plunkett, sponsor.

ROW ONE: C. Jarrell, B. Burket, J. Williams, D. Butler, T. Williams, J. Knotts. ROW TWO: G. McDermott, B. Leavell, L. Wilkey, B. Spoon. ROW THREE: M. Meyer, J. Whetstone, H. McDermott, M. McCorkle, Mr. Plunkett.





Today, academic excellence is one of the main ingredients of success. The entire academic system seems to be an inherent part of society and high school is an extremely important part of this system. It is a place where fellows and girls become students and individuals. It is a place where minds are sharpened and abilities are honed to a finer edge. It is a spring board for many to college or apprenticeship and to a full meaningful life ahead.

What do you want to be . . . a mechanic or an engineer? The Industrial Arts course is for you. Or would you rather go into business or secretarial work? An entire department is at your service. May be cooking and sewing suits you better. The Home Economics department is ready and willing to help you. Are you undecided, but going to college? The Academic course is "right down your alley."

Like most things, academics or studies are highly competitive. Honor Society, Honor Roll, and Honorable Mention are some of the rewards for diligent study and hard work.

In today's supersonic world, academics is the key to success, the key to happiness, and the key to progress.

PROGRESS IN ACADEMICS

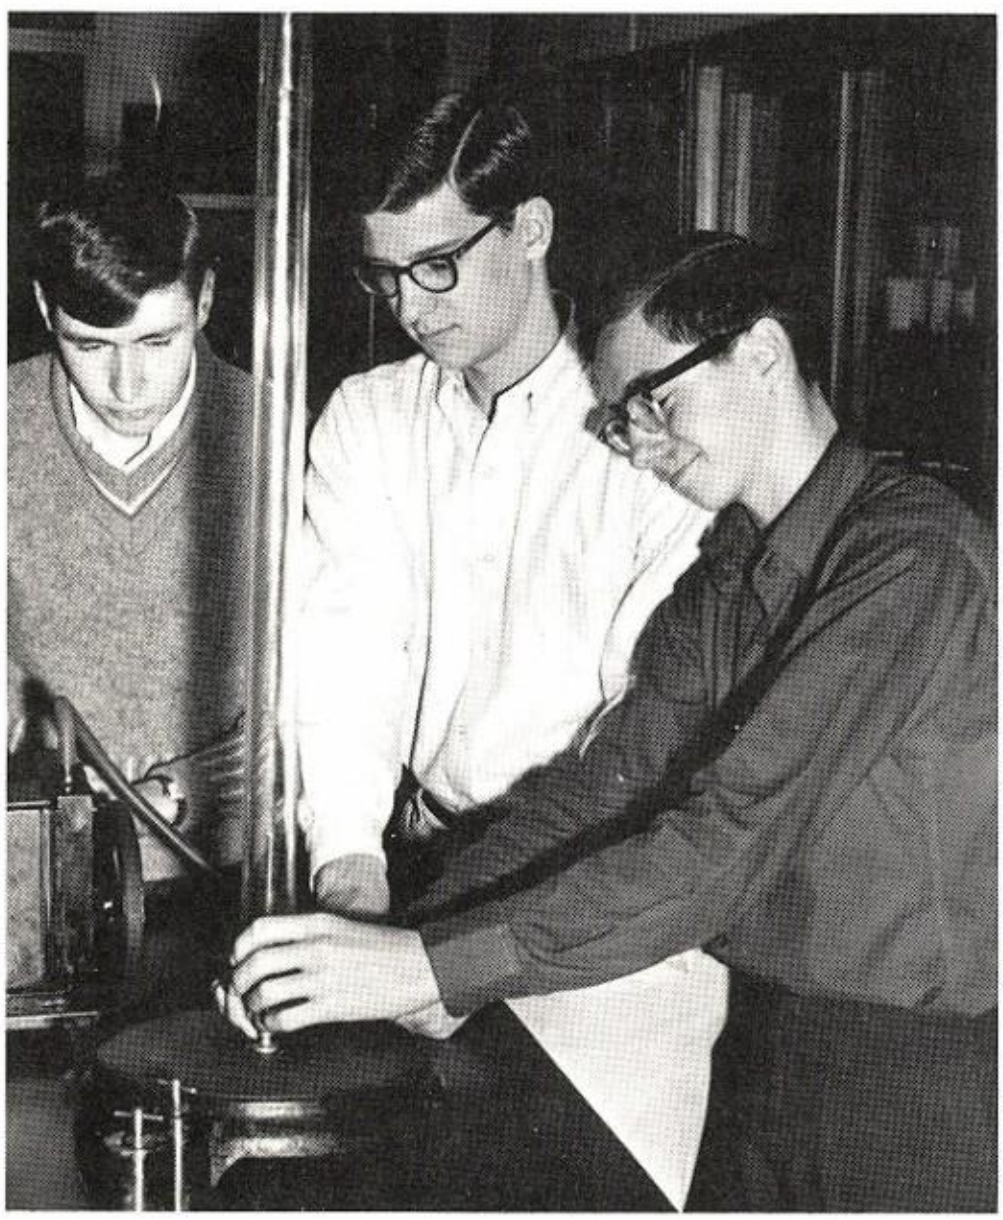
Scientists and Mathematicians of Disection of a shark was one of the many extended labs chosen for Advanced Biology.

Ann Webb and Ping Stevens discover that experiments in Chemistry can also be fun.

Dave Cotton, Bill Frye and Larry Lang demonstrate that objects will fall at the same rate regardless of weight, if they are in a vacuum.



In today's modern world of progress, science is the foundation of many new discoveries or achievements. Whether it be the finding of a new life-saving drug or an almost unbelievable space flight, some branch of science has been involved. There are vast career opportunities in all fields of science. A person with specialized training may be able to acquire such jobs as a chemical engineer to a nuclear physicist. The science department of Elwood High School wishes to enrich its students by various means during the school year. The teachers plan interesting trips and demonstrations for all the students' benefit. The science department tries to prepare the students of Willkie High School for further education in today's world of advanced science and learning.

Science courses offered include; General Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Advanced Biology, and Physical Science.

the Future Explore the Unknown

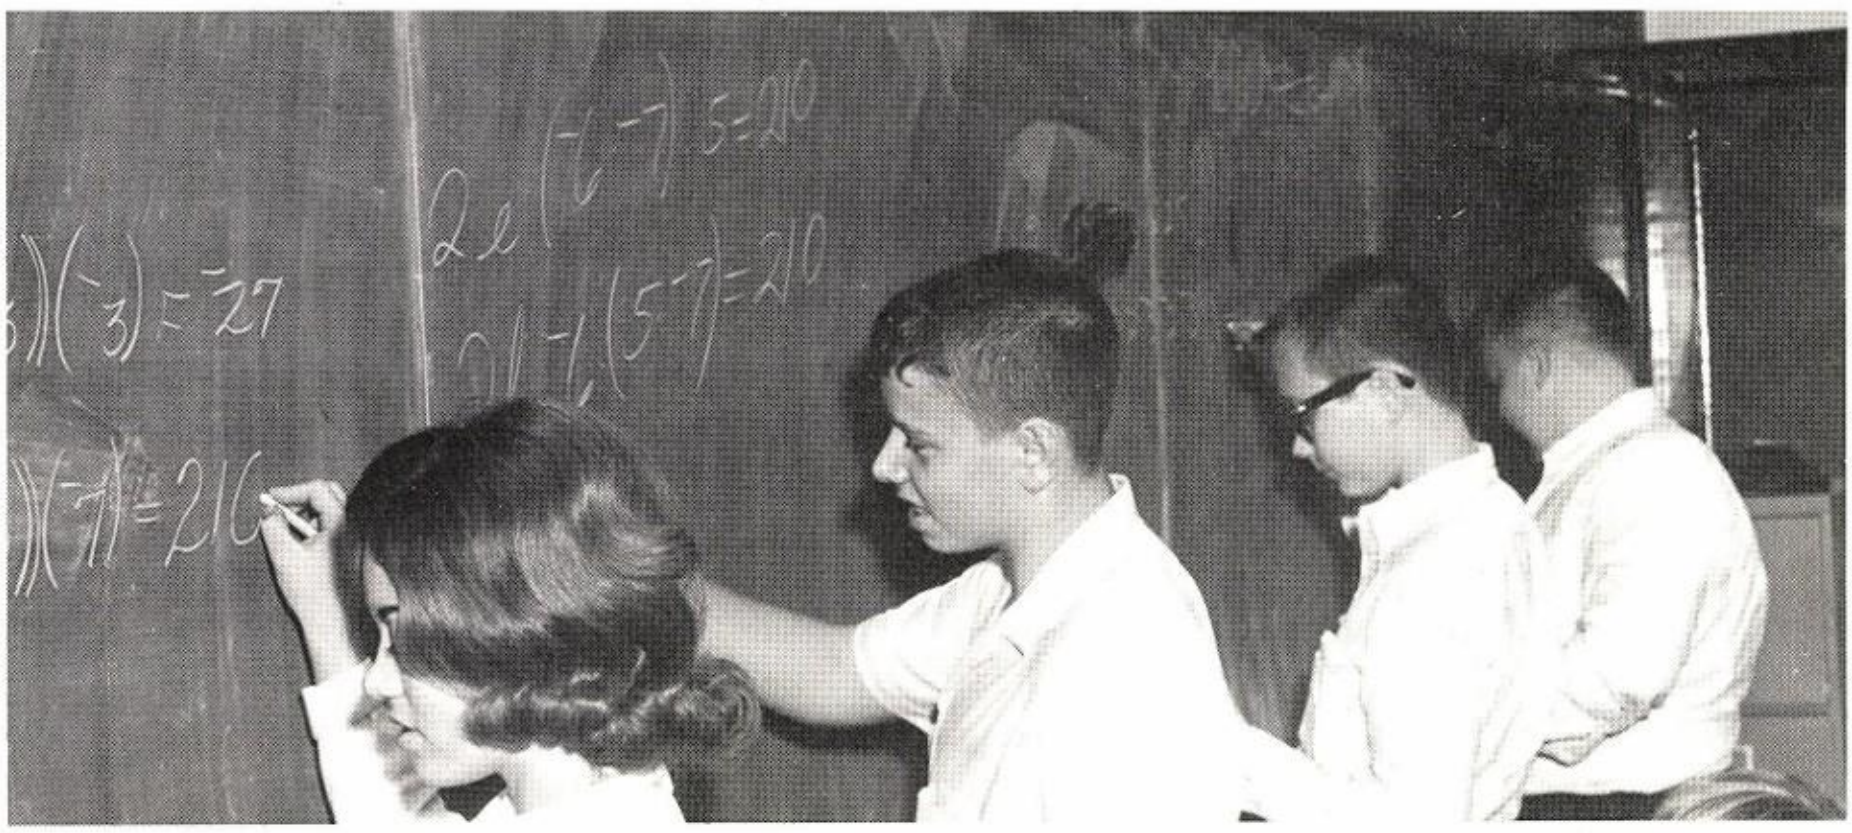
Kathy Sanders demonstrates how to work a geometry problem.

Advanced Algebra, taught by Mr. Manis, is one of the many math courses offered.

In this modern age of ours there is a great demand for engineers and technicians. Willkie High gives the student a great variety of mathematics courses including modern algebra, plane geometry, and general math.

Through this complete course of mathematics an essential part of each student's intellectual foundation is laid. Willkie students will have to contend with mathematics in their every day lives. Numbers play an important part in almost every field of endeavor. With our ever increasing population, numerical representation is here to stay. In a world where almost everything is changing nearly every day, our numbers remain constant, there will always be budgets to figure, personal books to balance, and futures to plan.

Working problems on the board gives the whole class a chance to help each other.



As the World Grows Smaller Our

Spanish carolers were heard throughout the halls at Christmas.

Language is the potent stimulator in communication. It is a barrier which must be met head on. Here at Willkie, the students not only face it, but enjoy working with the three foreign languages offered.

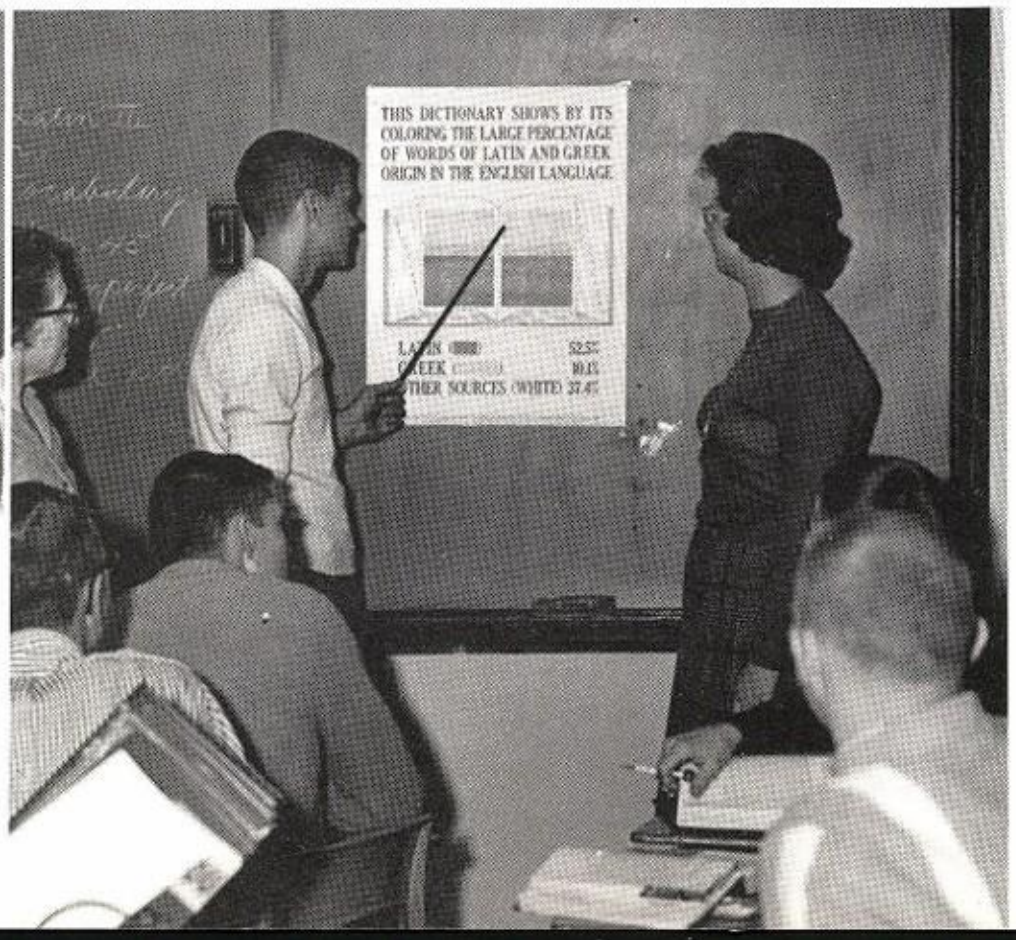
Latin, the basic foundation of almost all languages, is useful for our future doctors and nurses and lawyers. Spanish is the vital communication with our southern neighbors. French supplies us with a basis for dreams of faraway places. It is especially thought of as the romantic language.

The dialect is not the only thing that is stressed. The culture of the country or countries in which the language is spoken is of extreme importance in its study.

In a world that is growing smaller through the means of communication and transportation, language will be even more important throughout the world.

The language students take time out for a party.

Randy Tunis and Diane Linegar point out the number of words derived from Latin.



Perspective in Language Must Broaden

Miss Digel stresses the importance of reading good books for reports.

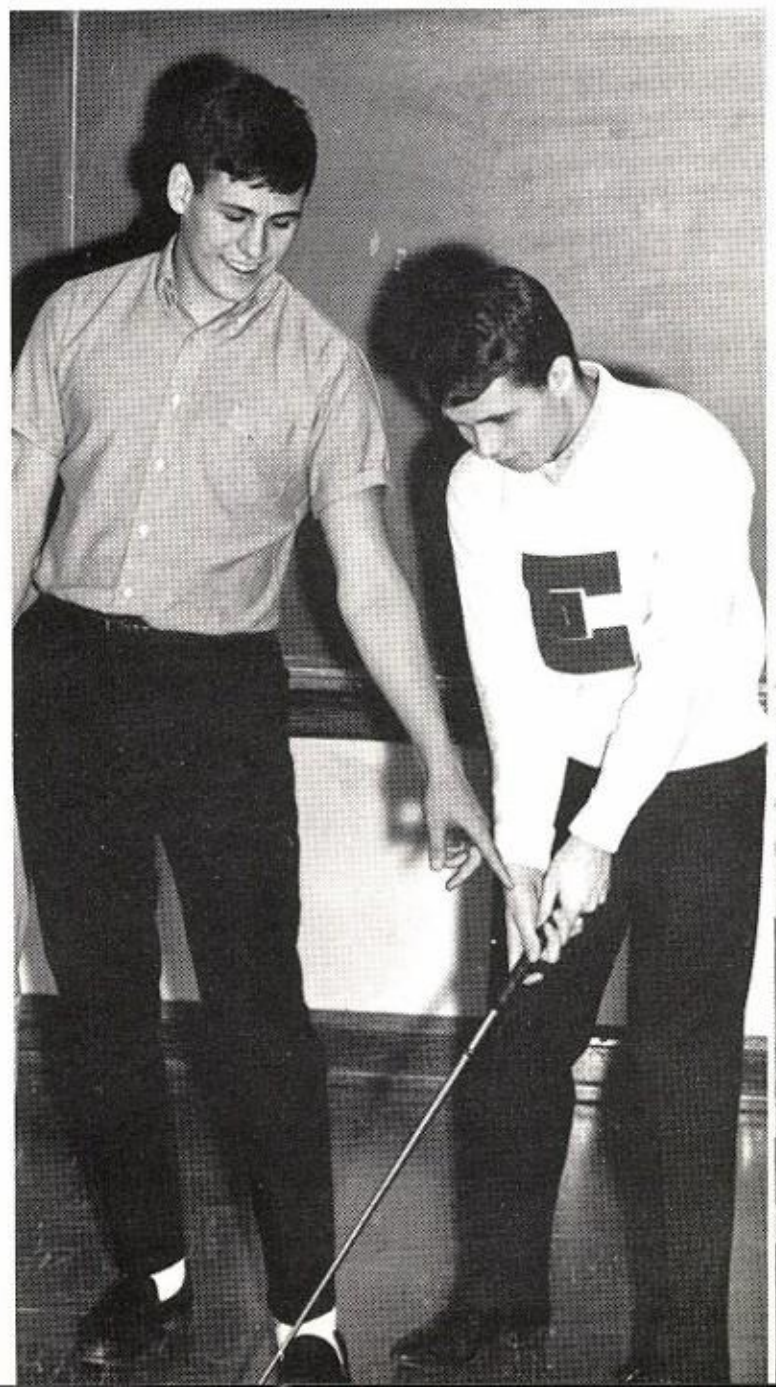
English is the basis of our society and our life as a whole. In every part of our lives it forms the foundation for communication, yet it is always changing.

The knowledge conveyed through the works of such great masters as Shakespeare and Browning and many others will be useful all the future years of our lives. Literature is an important part of the English language.

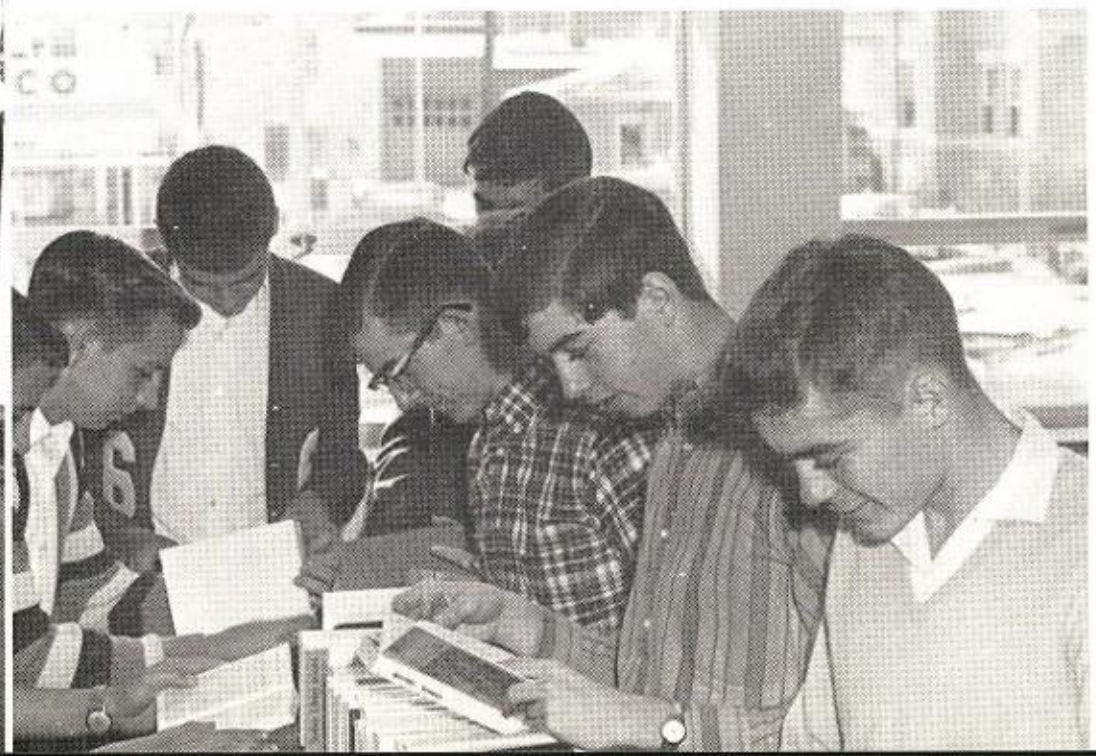
Talking well before a group is the main goal of the Wendell L. Willkie speech classes. Journalistic abilities become known through the journalism classes.

Yes, English is a complex language, but it is ours and we respect it enough to study it thoroughly.

Ed Alley gives Dave Kincaid some tips on golfing in speech class.



Mr. Short assists his class in the choice of literary material.



Social Studies and Modern Business

Reviewing laws and applying them to special cases help students to understand our constitution through Business Law.

Our high school has grown to meet the needs of those going into the commercial field. These courses serve as a preliminary before entering business college, or are the prequisites for obtaining work after graduation. The business world of today is growing larger and providing more opportunities for the commercially educated student. Many do not realize the large number of pupils enrolled in this course.

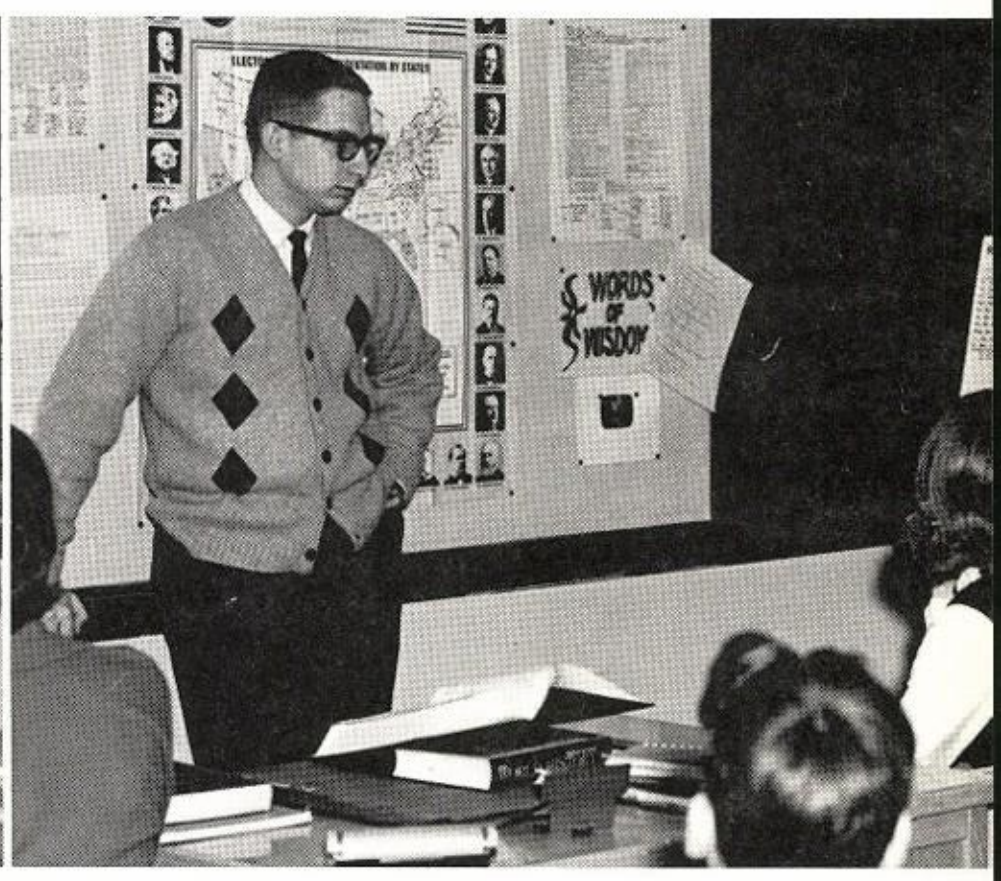
Classes in shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, business law, beginning business, office machines, and selling are available to those interested. Skill and dexterity are requirements to become a success in this field. Many of our Willkie graduates have become a bookkeeper, certified public accountant, typist, secretary, clerk, or one of several other occupations in the field of business.

Mrs. Kintzel's office machines classes learn to operate machines that are most commonly used in modern offices.

Jean Herniak works diligently to keep up her work in shorthand.

Become More Important in the Election Year

Bud Badger and Susie Courtney point out one of the vital parts of the modern world in Willkie's new geography course.

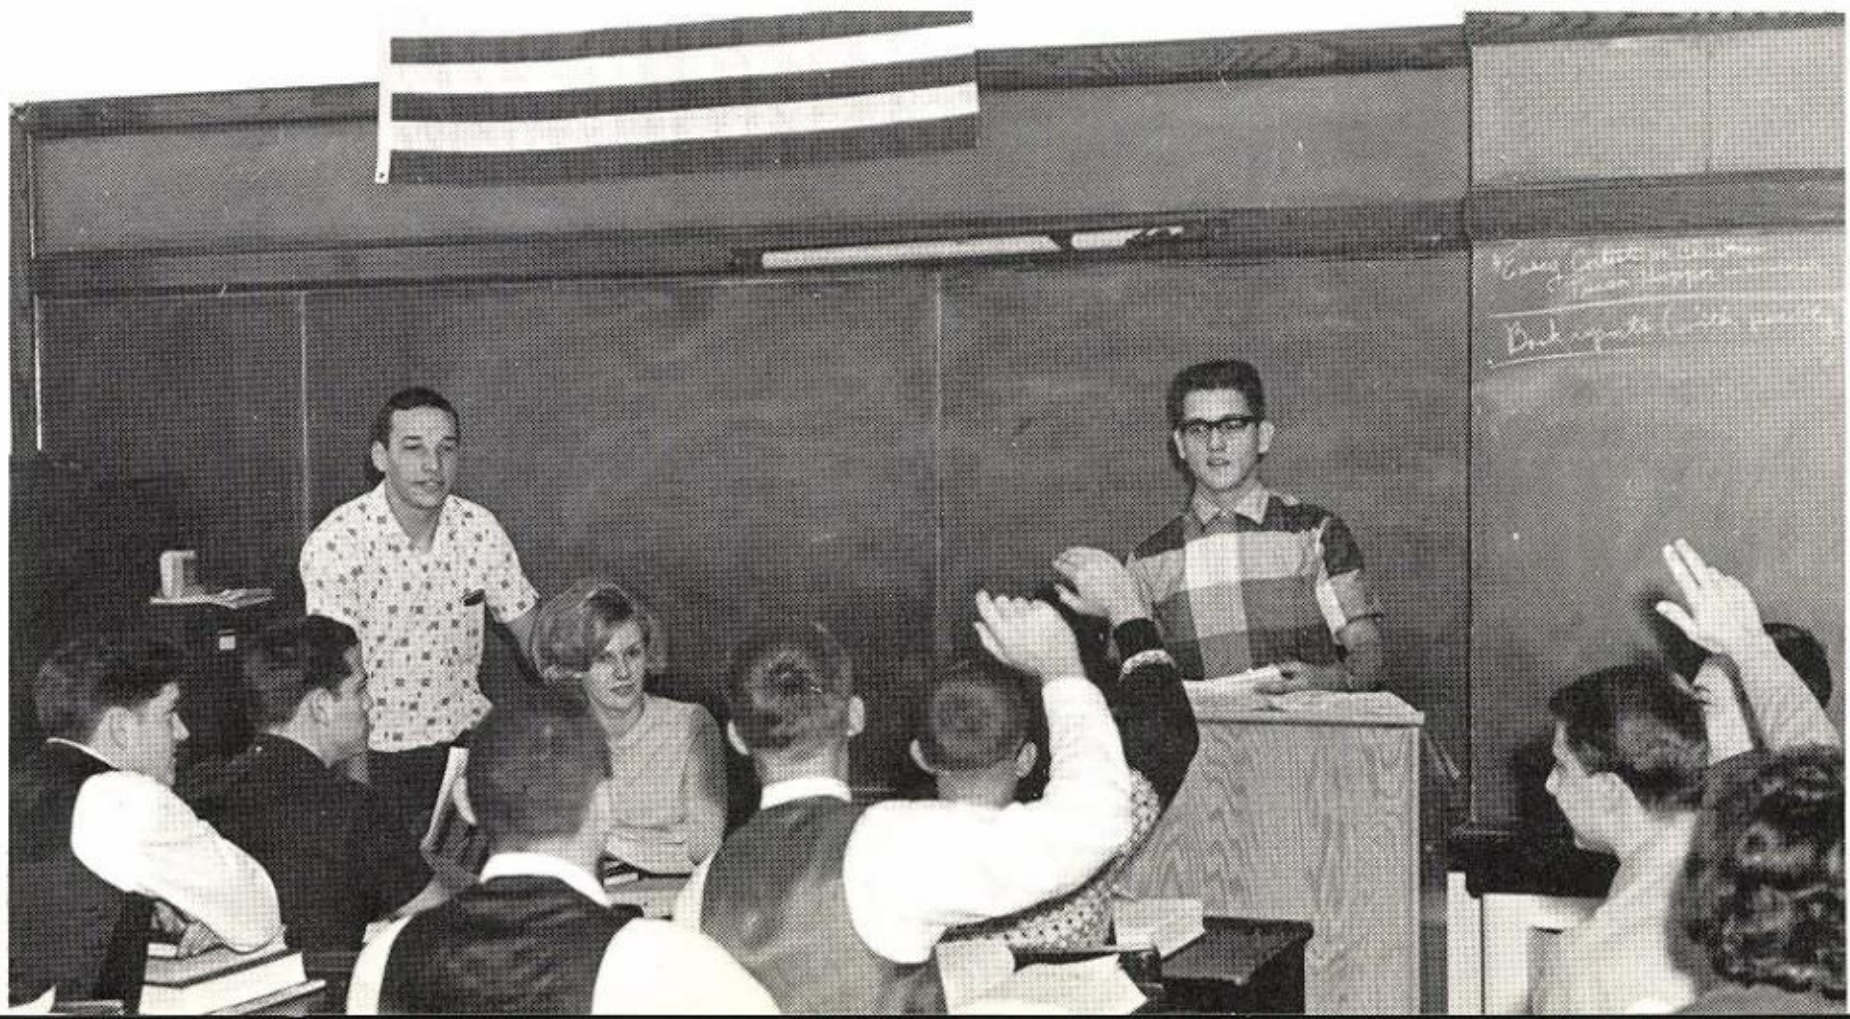


Mr. Ottinger leads a discussion with his class in United States history.

Modern man must be acquainted with his American Heritage to practice his inalienable rights. A knowledge of the governmental process can help to interpret the concepts of our modern world through social studies. As American citizens and the leaders of tomorrow we owe it to our forefathers, our children, and ourselves to grasp the meaning of freedom and its place in our government. During the election year all these things have become important to us.

An understanding of the past and present cultures is the goal in Willkie High's geography, world history, American history, civics, sociology, economics, and psychology classes. A betterment of world affairs may thus result.

Open debate led by students encourages class participation.



Industrial Arts and D.C.E. Provide Practical

Linda Justice and Jan Jackson attempt to perfect their projects.

Industrial Arts continues to be one of the fastest growing areas in Willkie. This is because more job openings have become available to students interested in this field. The experience gained from high school prepares our students in two ways; for extended study in college, or for practical use upon graduation. However, industrial arts is only one area that carries this idea through.

Printing, electricity, mechanical drawing, woodworking, machine shop, and welding as well as blue print reading are offered for the boys. Not only does Willkie pride itself in the newest knowledge and equipment provided for these phases, but maximum safety is also observed.

Although industrial arts is usually considered an area for boys, the Home Mechanics course offers girls knowledge and practice in home crafts and repairs.

The Industrial Arts class learns from personal experience.

Use for Obtaining Needed Experience

The D.C.E. of Elwood is a course dedicated to those students wishing to fulfill their desire to learn their chosen trade. The D.C.E. is actually called the Diversified Cooperative Education, and is sponsored by Mr. George Kintzel.

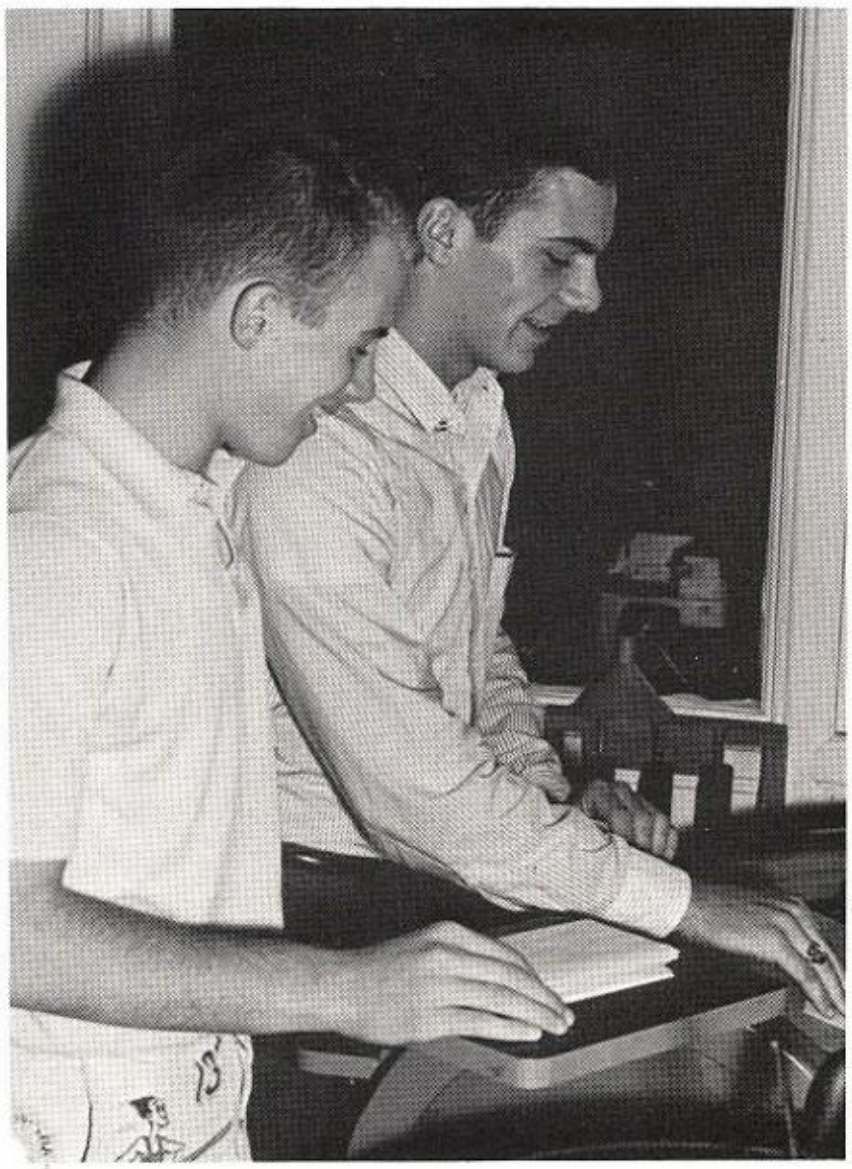
Those on the D.C.E. course establish a sense of responsibility and experience the problems created by a full-time job. Besides one hour a day spent in class with related D.C.E. study, the students gain something greater than their regular schoolwork can provide, the work experience itself--the opportunity to learn and achieve their goal, and their future vocation.

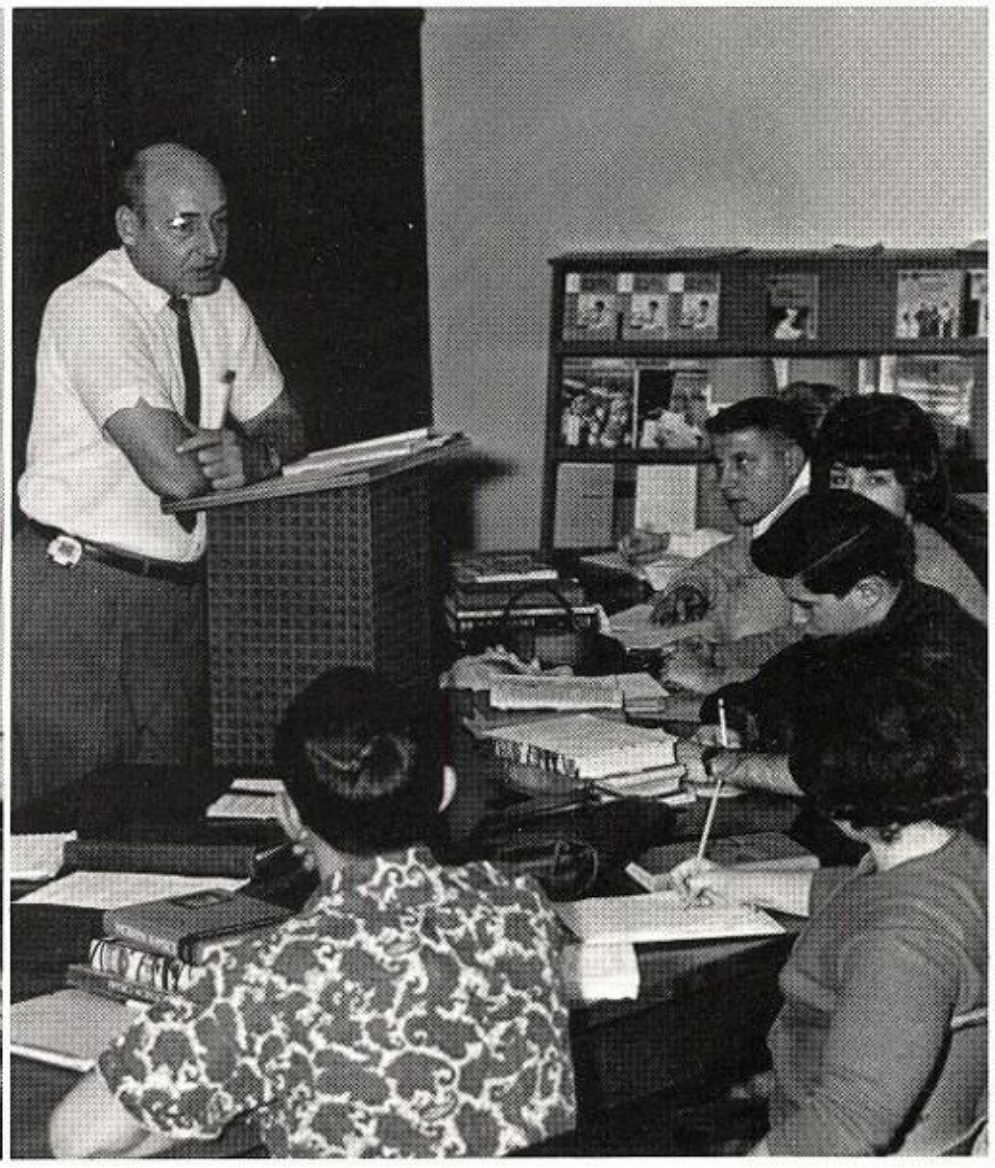
Students attend a half day of school and work either in the morning or afternoon. They receive credit for the half day of work which goes toward graduation. In this way students are able to earn money while they are going to school.

Putting names on the Crescent, as shown here by Joyce Ball, Jim Armstrong, and Linda Elliot, is one of the many services provided by D.C.E.

John Burton and Gary Beasley find making copies on the printing press not only work but also enjoyment.

Mr. Kintzel instructs the group in problems that will face them in their various vocational adventures.





Home Ec. and Agriculture Combine to

Girls in Child Care class under the direction of Mrs. Schwear look over baby clothes.

Home Economics classes are offered to future homemakers attending our school. Courses are taught in foods, clothing, child care, and interior decorating. All girls who want to become housewives take the homemaking course as a basic for their future. This study of domestic economy is also offered to any senior boy who wishes to get a little cooking background before he needs it.

Every phase of the home is under study at sometime or another. Planning a completely balanced meal is a collection of the knowledge which one might learn.

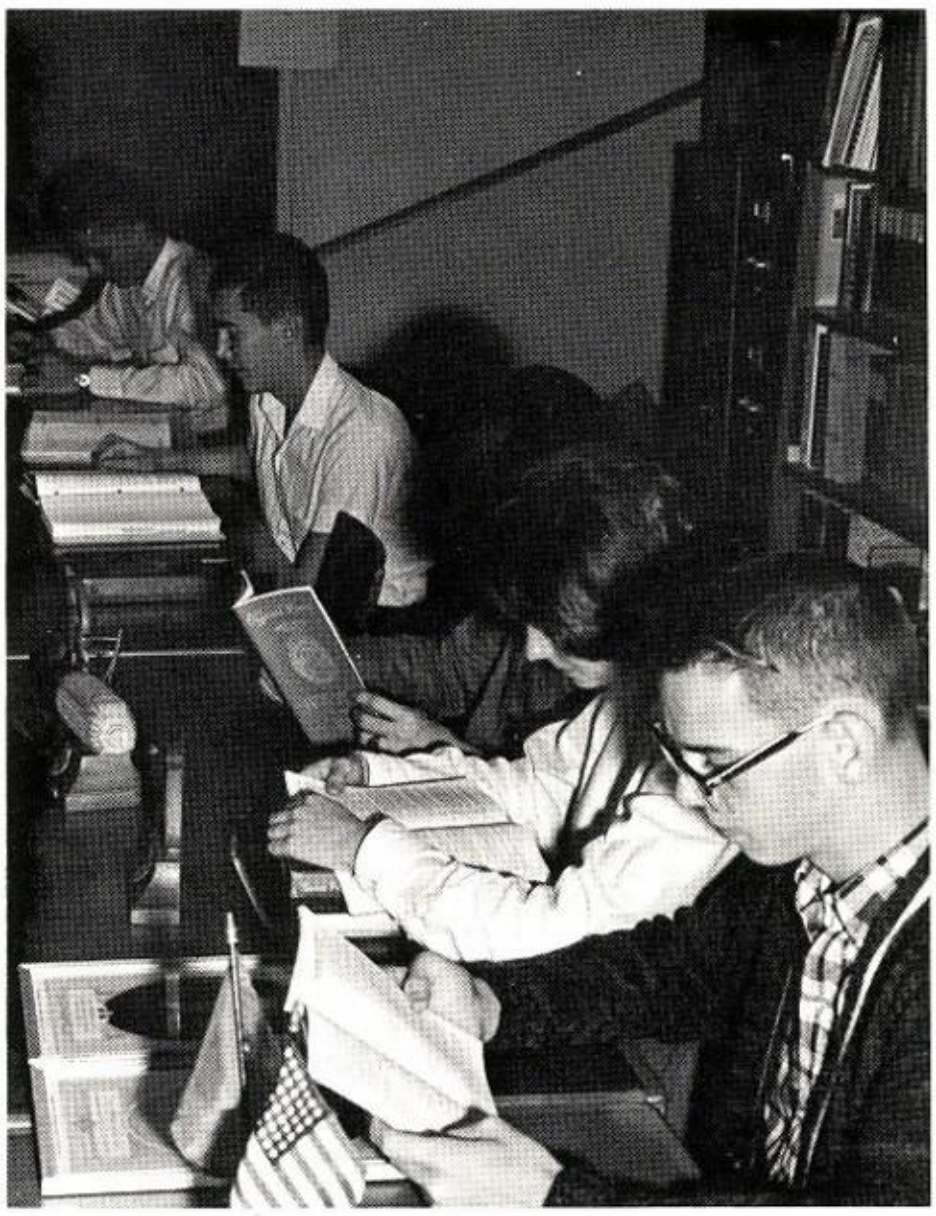
One of the projects of the Girls Home Ec. class was to prepare sack lunches for the basketball team.

Provide a Vocatioal Background

Jerry Williams and Jo Meyer construct a hog ringing crate.

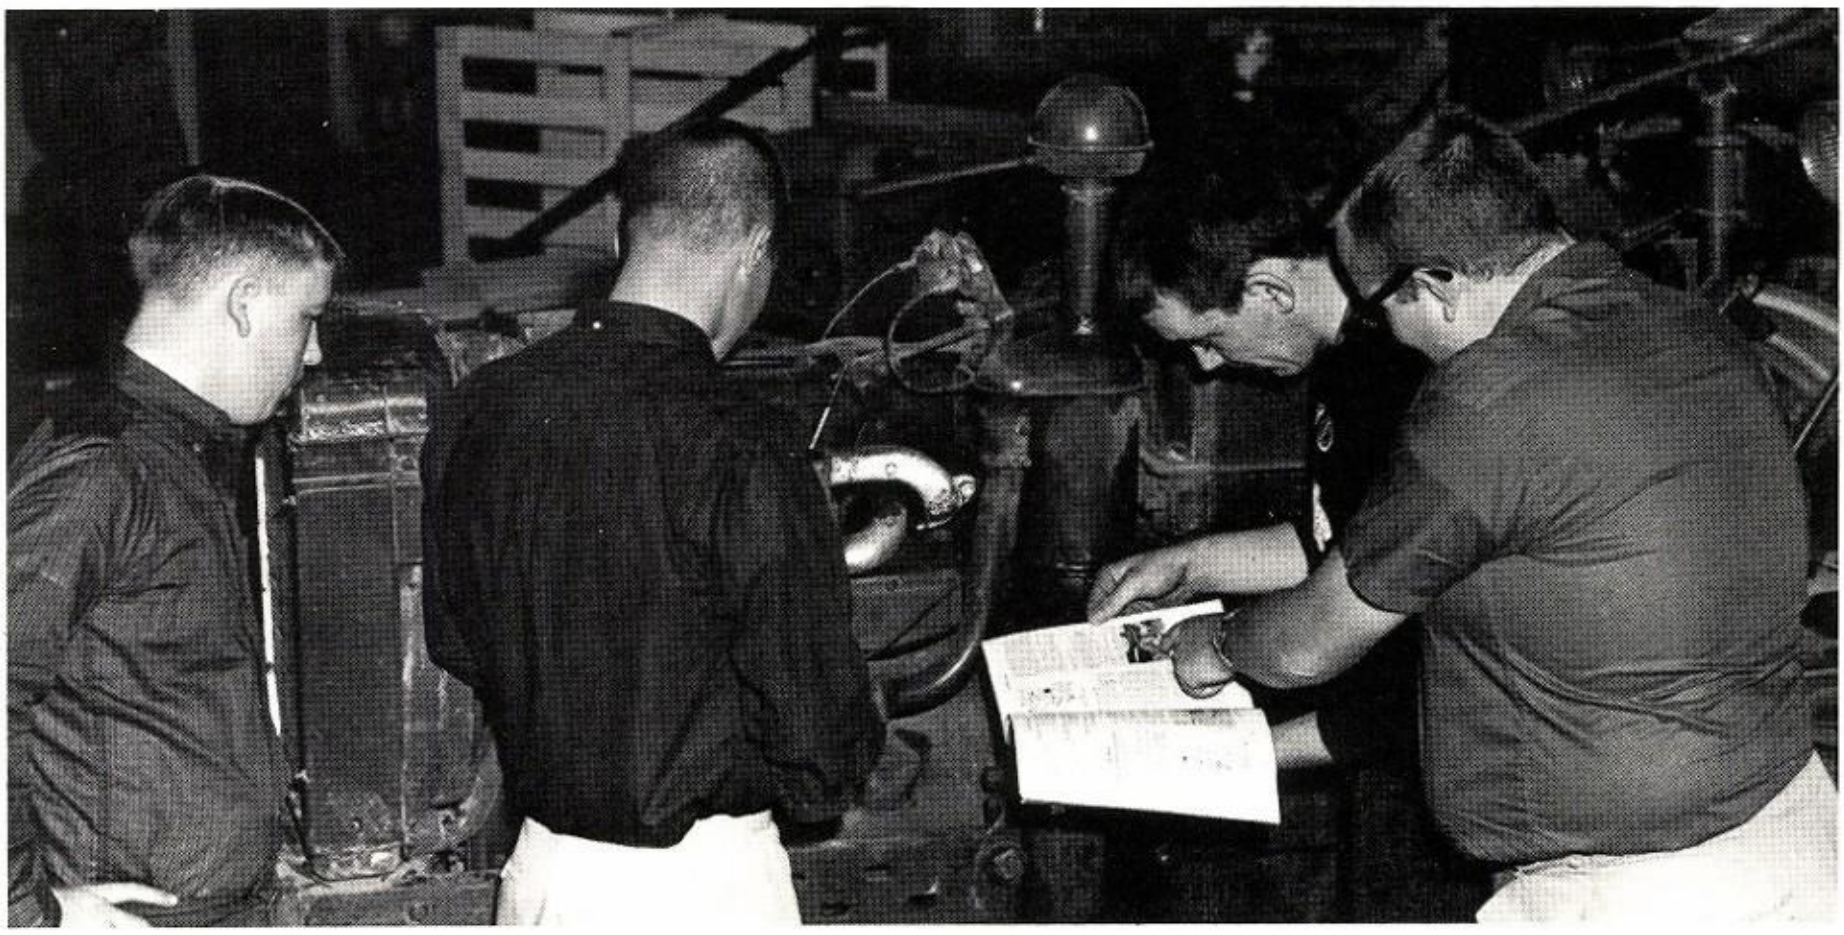
The Vocational Agriculture course offers much to those interested in farming. The new methods and new scientific aids used today present a need for more schooling in this work. Studying these subjects enables the students to work in farm management, agricultural research departments, or farming. To gain a greater appreciation of what goes into work in the agriculture field a general agriculture class is also offered.

The Future Farmers of American is an important facet of the department. Here they take field trips and enter contests.



Learning the symbols of the Future Farmers of America is an important part of the Vocational Agriculture course.

Vocational Ag. boys study the tractor as a part of the course.



Co-Ordination of the Body and Mind Is

Girl's health class studies the structure of the eye in class.

Developing a familiarity with the car engine is one of the necessities of Driver Education.

The goals of physical education and health and safety are closely related. A knowledge of physical education provides one with the know-how to build and maintain a strong body. Health and safety, on the other hand, enables us to learn how our body functions and what to do to keep it operating properly. As has often been said, a good mind goes hand-in-hand with a strong body. The ancient Greeks recognized this principle, as did our late President Kennedy; when he urged that Americans embark on a physfitness campaign to coincide with the mental exercises in our schools. Certainly our present school program of physical education and health and safety carries these ideas to their fullest. Both have the same ultimate objective; to make each boy and girl a more responsible and able citizen.

The driver education classes of Wendell L. Willkie High School are interested in the future drivers of the country. Public safety, driving skills, highway rules, and driving courtesy are stressed very often.

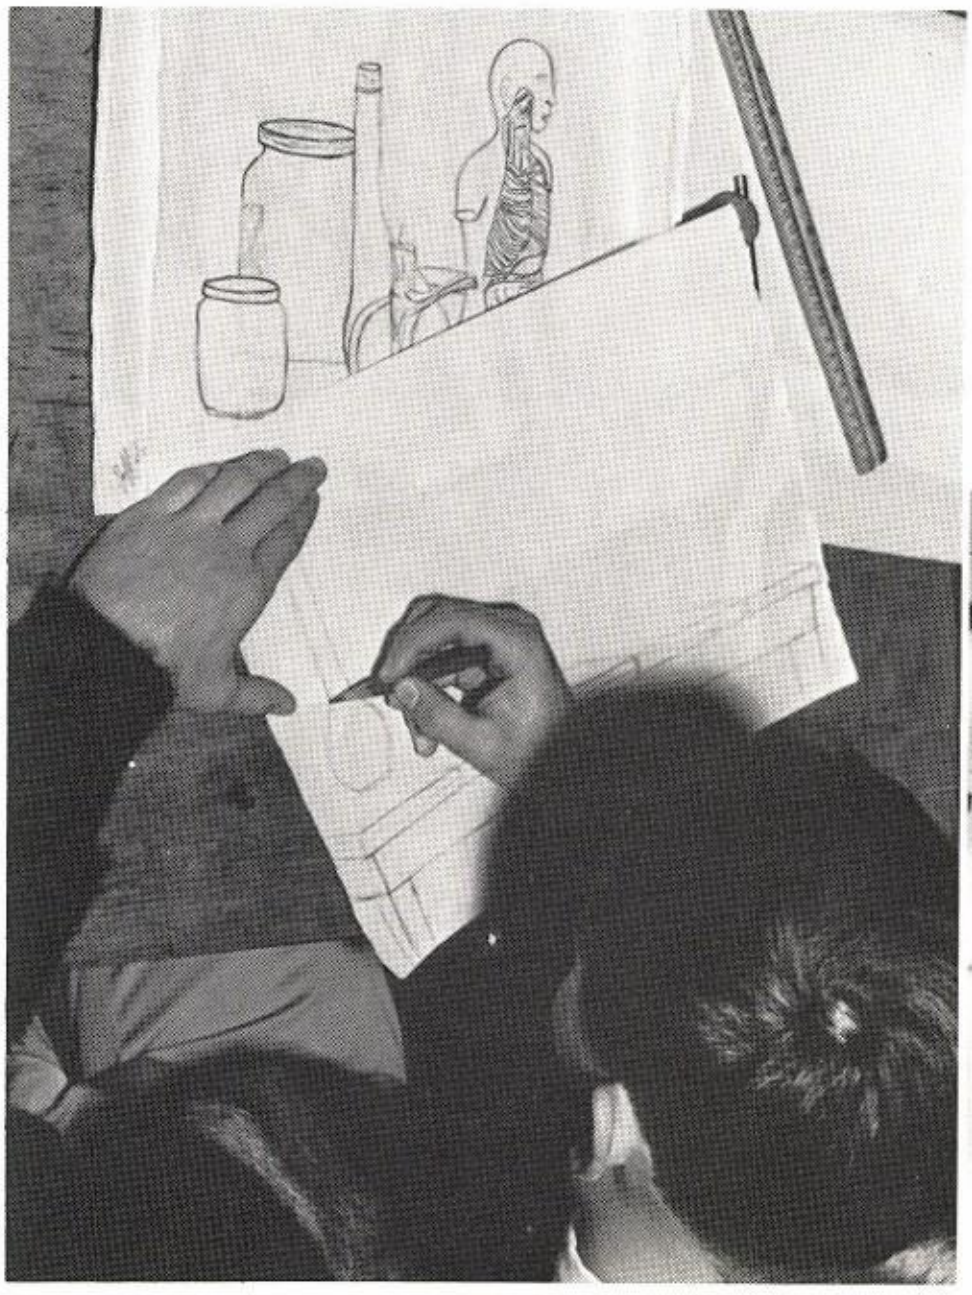
The course helps greatly in passing driver's tests which everyone must take. All students should get this basic training before taking a test. Enrollment in this class is always in the maximum.

Learning how to park is a very important part of driver's training and takes much practice.

Developed Through Activity and Study

Sectional rehearslas are held after school for band members.

Skill and creative talent are used to make original drawings.



E.H.S. has fine art electives which help to develop our cultural tastes. In the music department the Panther Band, the girl's glee club, and the choir offer relaxation in our every day schedule.

Both art and music give us a chance to express ourselves through tunes or paintings or crafts or sculpture.

Sketches of fashions was one of the assignments for the art class.

From man's beginning he has always recognized the value and the pleasure to be derived from sporting games and physical prowess. Today a part of man's progress still is measured by athletic achievement and therefore the sports program of a school is indeed an important one.

Wendell L. Willkie High School's athletics this year pushed beyond community and even Central Indiana Conference limits to achieve statewide attention. Dedicated to the high ideals of the true competitive, spirit, the athletic program personified fair play and sportsmanship, effort, teamwork, and loyalty to each other and to our school in all encounters. Of such stuff real men are made.

Following the teams in all their contests was the loyal student body, earnest and unflagged in their devotion to the teams. The enthusiastic and fair-minded spirit of Willkie High spectators is a tribute to the success of the general athletic program and to the teams.

Alexander, D. Lewis, and M. Hankley.

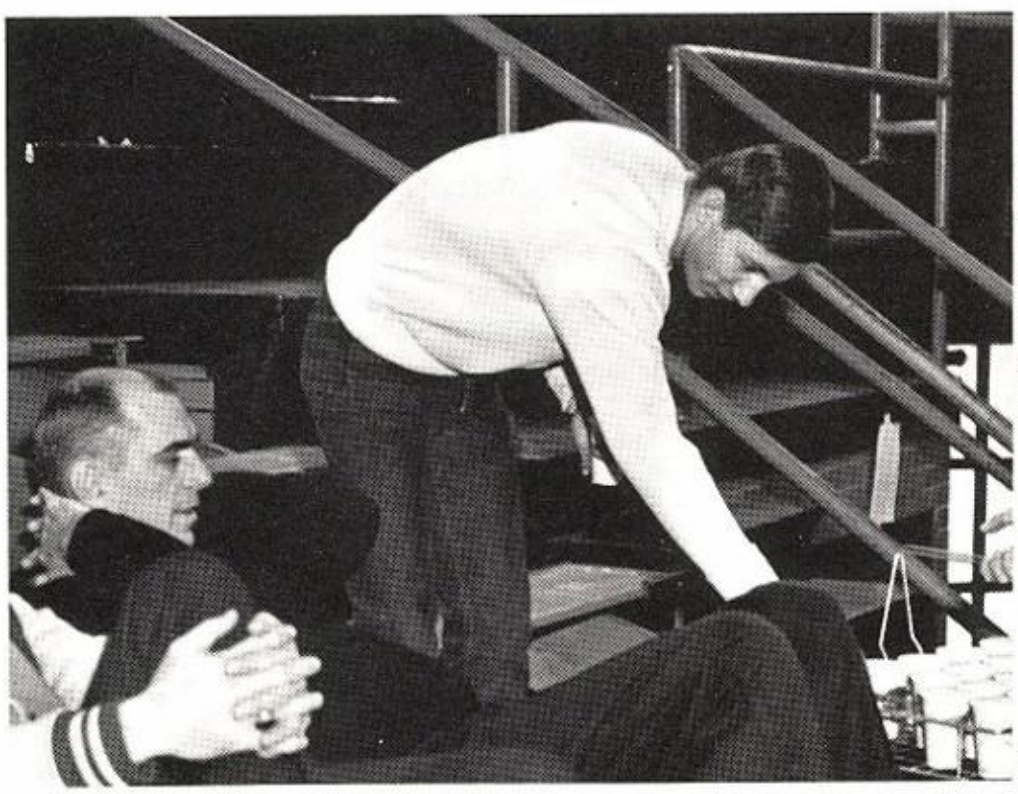
Among the proudest students walking the halls of Willkie High are the boys who wear a red "E" on their white sweaters and are members of the E-Men's Club.

Under the sponsorship of head basketball coach, Ray Manis, and president, Mike Hankley, the E-Men's Club promoted interest, enthusiasm, and good sportsmanship at all athletic events.

The colorful programs provided for the fans at each home football and basketball game are printed each week throughout the year under the direction of the E-Men. This is the third year the organization has undertaken this project.

Belonging to this group is more than mere membership. It is an honor. The boys must first earn this recognition by participating in a sport and gaining a letter.

As Coach Manis relaxes, Mike Hankley, E-Men's president, serves him a Coke.



Selling concessions at the Jr. High, Freshman, and Jr. Varsity tourney was part of E-Men's projects.

"Popcorn! Cokes!" "Can I help you to your seats?" These are the famous quotations of our concession workers and ushers. Ball games would hardly seem the same without the work carried on by these two groups. The concessionaires prepare all the popcorn and make it available for other groups to sell. In the meantime the ushers protect our gym floor and keep everything in order.

Two people we cannot overlook are Mr. Phillip Brown and Mrs. Spreen. They supervise the Concessions Club and carry a great deal of responsibility in this position.

Pep Club activates school spirit at the games.

Pep, enthusiasm and ability describe the newly organized Pep Club. Under the guidance of varsity cheerleaders and officers, Jan Curtis, president, Maureen Etchison, vice-president and underclassmen representatives, Mary Fettig and Joy Burton, the Pep Club helped establish more school spirit at the football and basketball games. For the first time in many years the Pep Club had available fan buses to be taken to the out-of-town ball games. Also this year the Pep Club is under new sponsorship of Mr. Clifford Brugger and Mr. Rex Jenkins.

This group of "peppy" girls has done much to strengthen our school spirit.

During the 1964 campaign Elwood's Panther Football Team faced ten important battles and came home victoriously with seven. As a grand finale our gridders clinched a share of the Central Indiana Football League Championship with Tipton Blue Devils.

Elwood's losses were to Madison Heights, Tipton, and West Lafayette.

Coaches Larry Shook and Hans Sheridan successfully began their careers with thirteen senior Panther gridders back on their squad. The return of several lettermen, excellent coaching, and hard work combined to make an outstanding team.

Panther co-captains for the season were Mike Tolle and Lyle Robinson. Lyle was runner-up for the CIC scoring crown and racked up over 2,000 yards during the season.

THIRD ROW--Danny Widener, Bob Johns, Everett Childress, Phil Swinford, Mark Richwine, Mark Updegraff, Keven Blankenship, Bill Noel, Dan Yates, Jeff Hoffman.

This year our B Team took on a new name--Junior Varsity. Compared to some of the previous teams, our Junior Panthers was composed of a large number of sophomores and juniors. This was done because there were several lettermen back on the varsity this year. Under the direction of Coach Dick Merritt these boys gained experience through practicing with the varsity. When it was necessary, one of these boys who had shown enough potentiality was capable of replacing a varsity member.

In addition the Junior Varsity maintained a seven game schedule of its own during the season. Their three losses were close while the four wins were over such outstanding teams as Noblesville, South Side of Muncie, Tipton, and Mississinewa.

The main purpose for freshman football is to train the upcoming Panthers. These rookies gain important experience which will help them to make the varsity or junior varsity team in following years.

The freshman gridders, coached by Ray Manis, showed great potential this past season. Spearheaded by an outstanding line, they held their losses to three. Losing to Madison Heights, Noblesville, and Muncie Southside, they finished the season with a record of 5-3.

Out at home plate!

Coach Bob Moore's slugging Panther Baseball Team batted their way to an 18-5 record this summer. Captained by Rick Groover and Gary Beasley, the Panthers lost only to Sheridan, Wabash, Windfall, Mississinewa, and Frankton. The team, consisting of nine seniors, six juniors, and one sophomore, came in second in the Mid-Central Conference and also won the Conference Tourney.

The Panther netmen brought home to Willkie High three outstanding victories over Hartford City, Tipton, and New Castle. Coached by Ray Manis, they were able also to capture a fifth place standing in the CIC and journeyed to the Culver Invitational Meet.

The team consisted of ten men, including seniors Dave Klumpp, Larry Shaw, Bruce Stevens, and Greg Gardner. On Award Day Greg was presented the Most Valuable Player Award.

The team practiced long hours on the court to qualify for the CIC standing.

The mighty Panthers began their 1964 golf season with 15 members, 8 of whom were seniors. Coached by John Ward, Willkie High's golf team turned in an excellent record of only four losses out of fourteen meets. The climax of the season was winning a first in the CIC.

In both the Sectional Meet and the Culver Invitational Meet Elwood placed ninth. While the event at La-Porte left Elwood with a seventh place standing.

Tied for Low Medalist during the CIC, Ed Alley lost on the 19th hole play-offs with a score of 73.

Duane Etchison was awarded the annual golf trophy for 1964.

Special recognition was bestowed upon John Burton and Ron Drake--the boys both went on to the State. Ron captured a second place in the low hurdles with his time of 19:6. He received the Robert S. Hinshaw Award at the State Finals and the CIC Sportswriters Award as outstanding athlete. Ron also set a record for high hurdles at 14:9. John placed second in the pole vault at the State Finals with his vault of 13'2", which also broke the Panther school record.

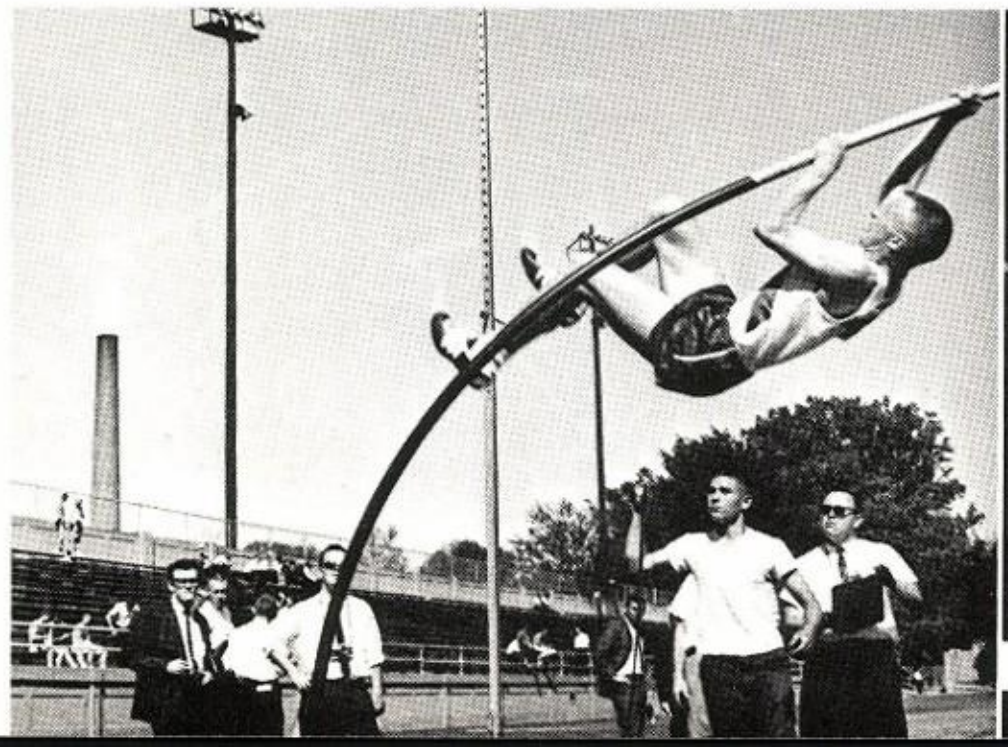
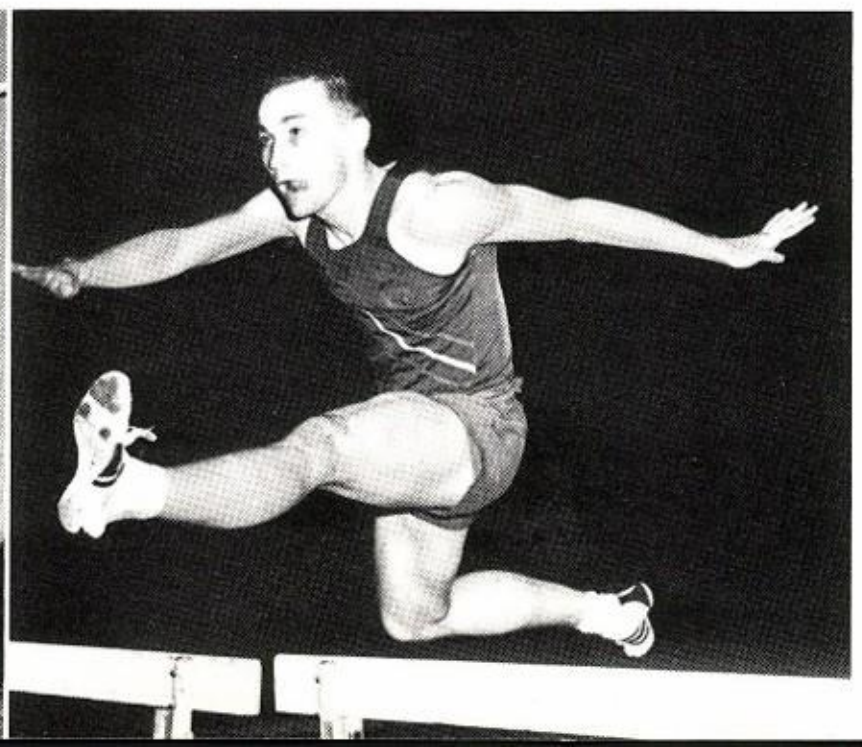
Up and over!



Ron Drake showed outstanding form and speed.



Willkie Harriers Garner a Second Place in C.I.C.

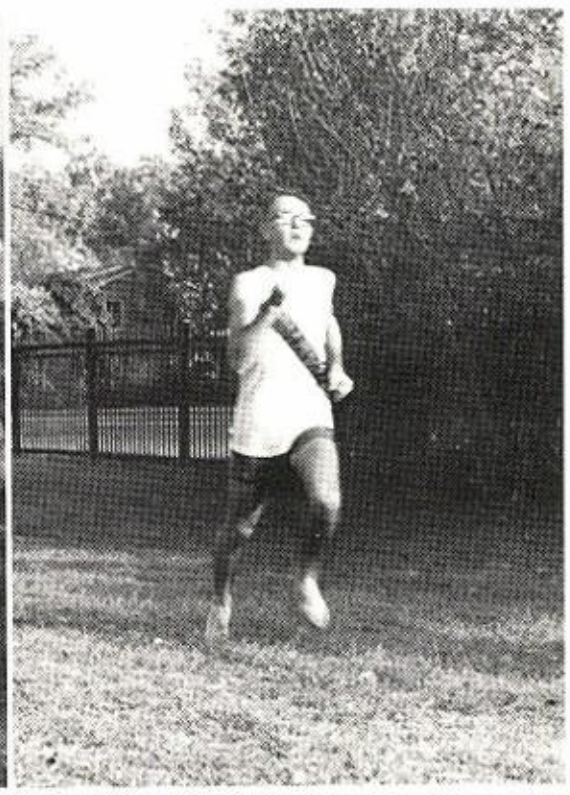
The cross country runners, coached by Mr. Burton, performed in a creditable manner this year. Led by Senior Mike Hankley and Junior Gary Strader, the team won 4 of 5 dual meets, won 1 of 3 triangular meets, placed 2nd in 2 triangulars, placed 2nd at the Burris Invitational, 13th at Southport Invitational, 2nd in the all-important CIC Meet, and ended the season in 8th place at the Sectional.

Seniors Mike Hankley, Rick Cannon, Terry Wells, Kevin Tam will not be on the '65 team, but veterans Gary Strader, Terry Cook, Tom Martin, Kenny Croy, Dennis Green will form a nucleus.

The team put in long hours of hard work to bring home their victories.

Only two more miles to go!



Willkie's Panthers Captured CIC Championship

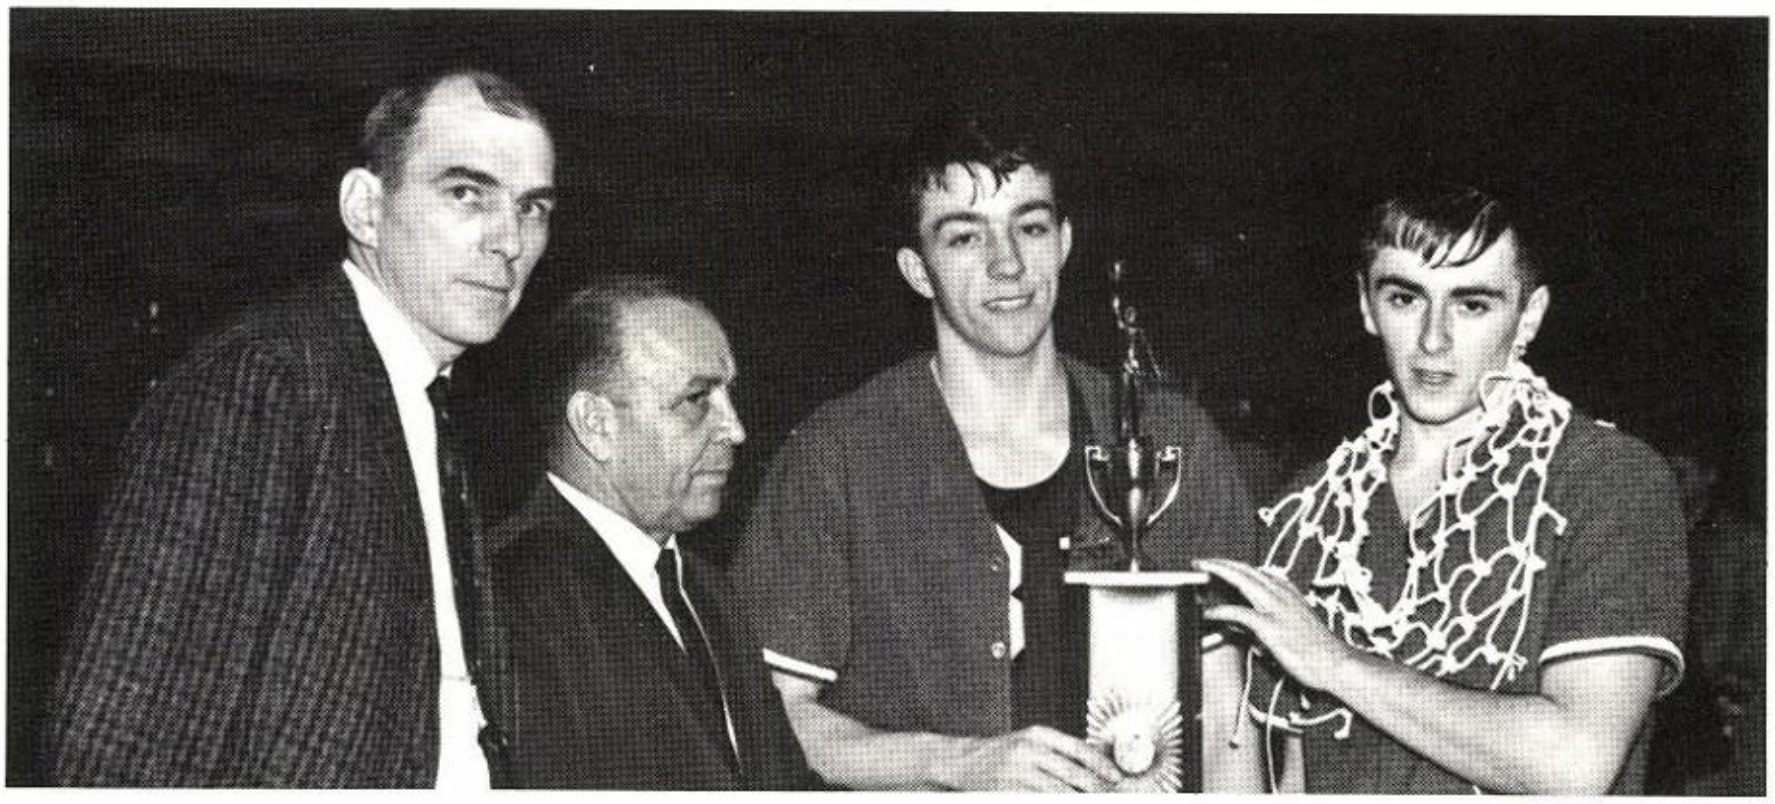
to Top Off a Victorious Season



Our Panthers out-hustled the Alexandria Tigers to bring home the Holiday Tourney Trophy. Accepting it from Madison Heights Principal Robert Collier are Coach Manis, Garl Balser, and Rich Leavell.

Led by outstanding Seniors and Coach Ray Manis, the Elwood Panther cagers roared to a record shattering 19-2 season mark. In doing so they won the CIC title outright, established a record for possession of "our" Horseshoe, and gained state-wide recognition all season long.

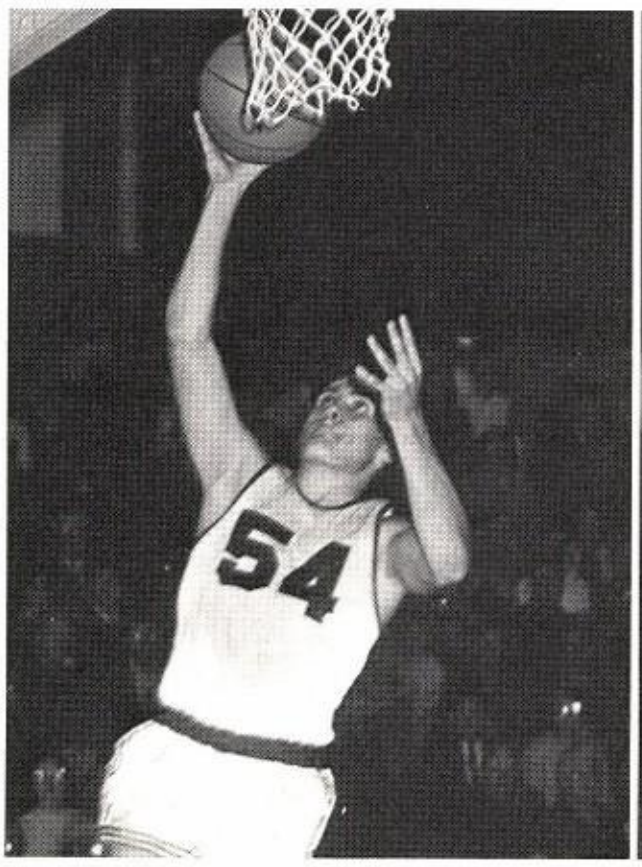
Our mighty Panthers stalked through the toughest schedule ever carded and emerged with hardly a scratch, subduing their opposition by an average of 18.5 points per game.

The Panthers never left the state's top ten ranking, fluctuating from fifth to tenth throughout the season.

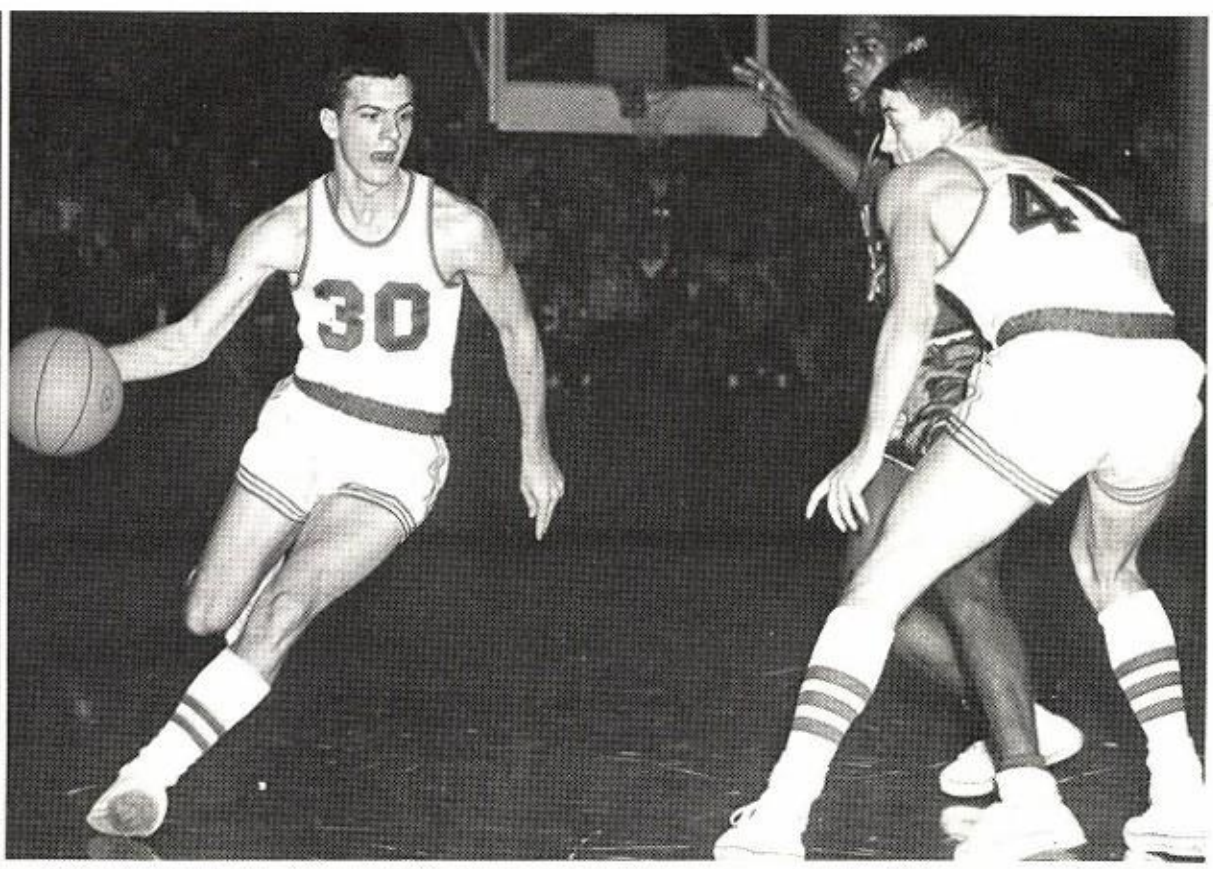
Their most overwhelming victories came at the expense of rival Alexandria (48 points), Sheridan (41 points), Highland (40 points), and Wabash (38 points). The Panthers won by a "whisker" over Noblesville, Oak Hill, and Madison Heights. Ft. Wayne Central and Anderson were the only blemishes on an otherwise perfect season slate.

Seven great Seniors will graduate from that history-making squad. They have provided us with a season of thrills and enjoyment. And through basketball they have provided themselves with the will and the courage to win the toughest game of all.

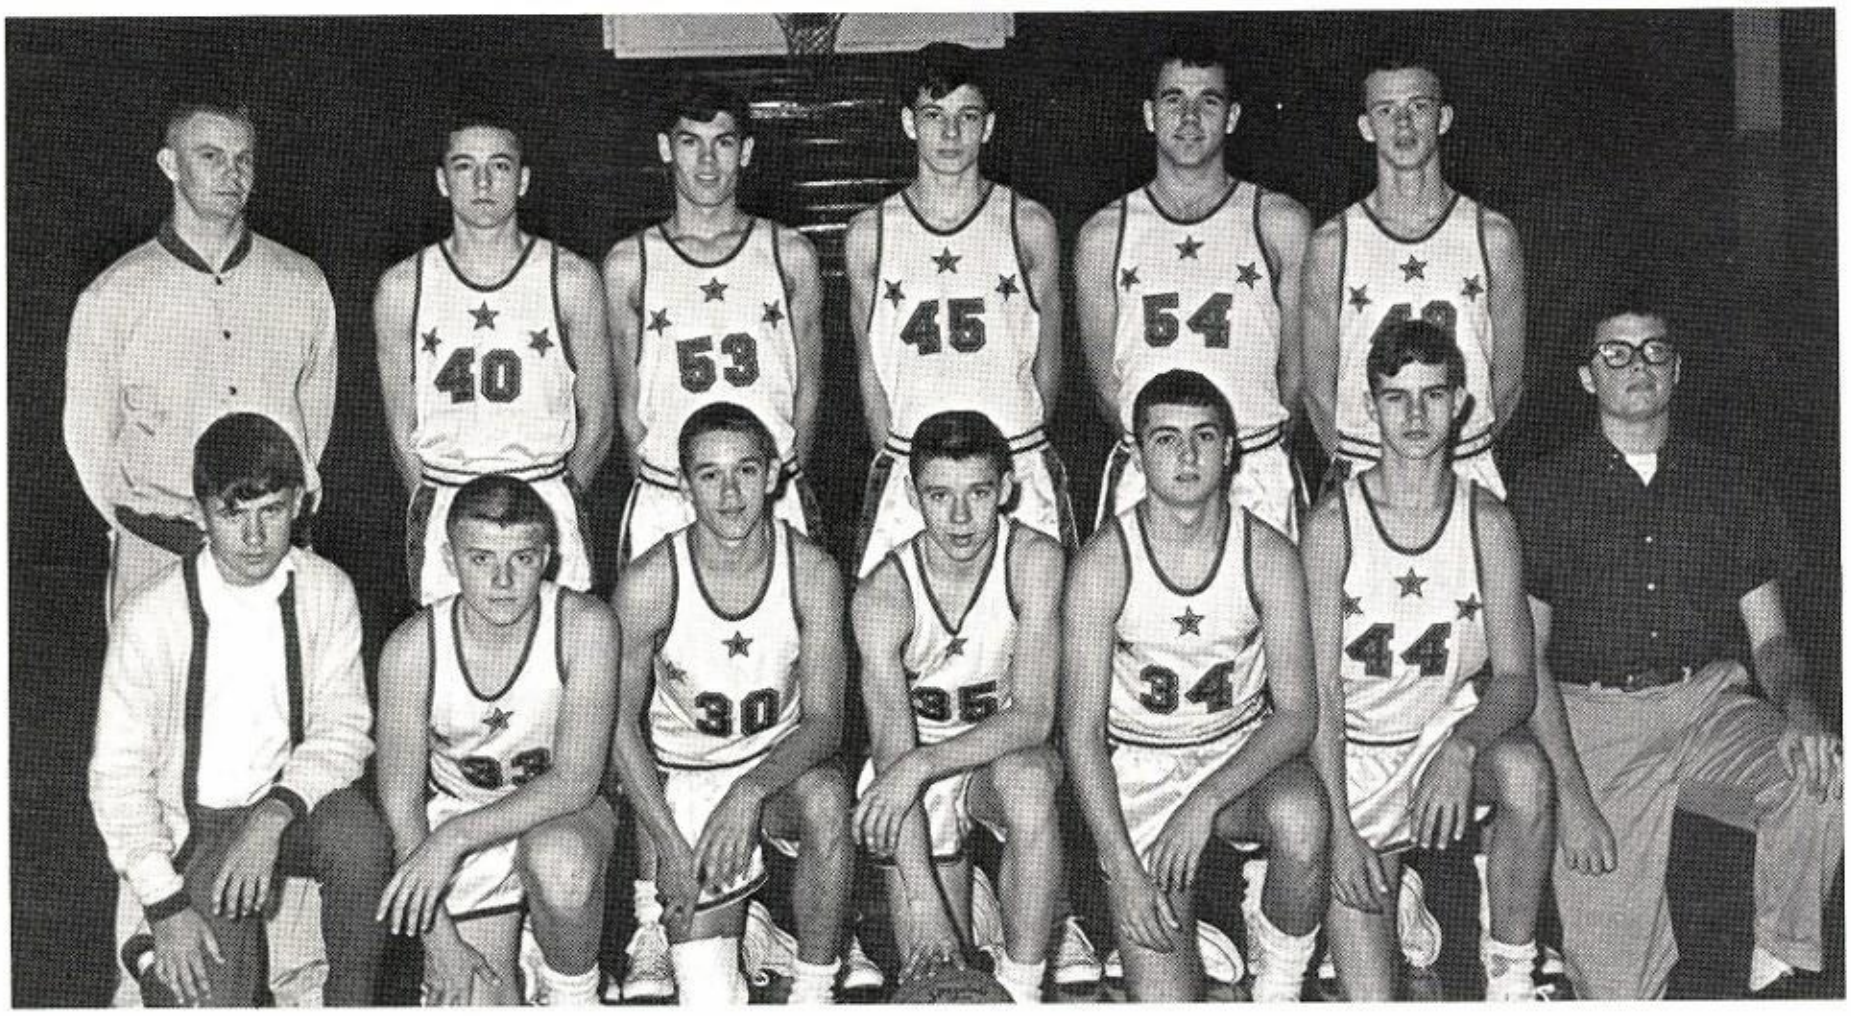
Ed Alley goes in for a lay-up during the New Castle game.



Gary Beasley and Garl Balser show offensive action in tricking a New Castle Trogan.



Hoosier Hysteria Comes Once



Members of the B-Team were: J. Werline, J. Mengelt, B. Stage, B. Drake, M. Richwine, J. Stiner, L. Shinkle, manager. ROW TWO: Coach Shook, P. Swinford, J. Bourff, K. Cannon, L. Leisure, K. Blankenship.

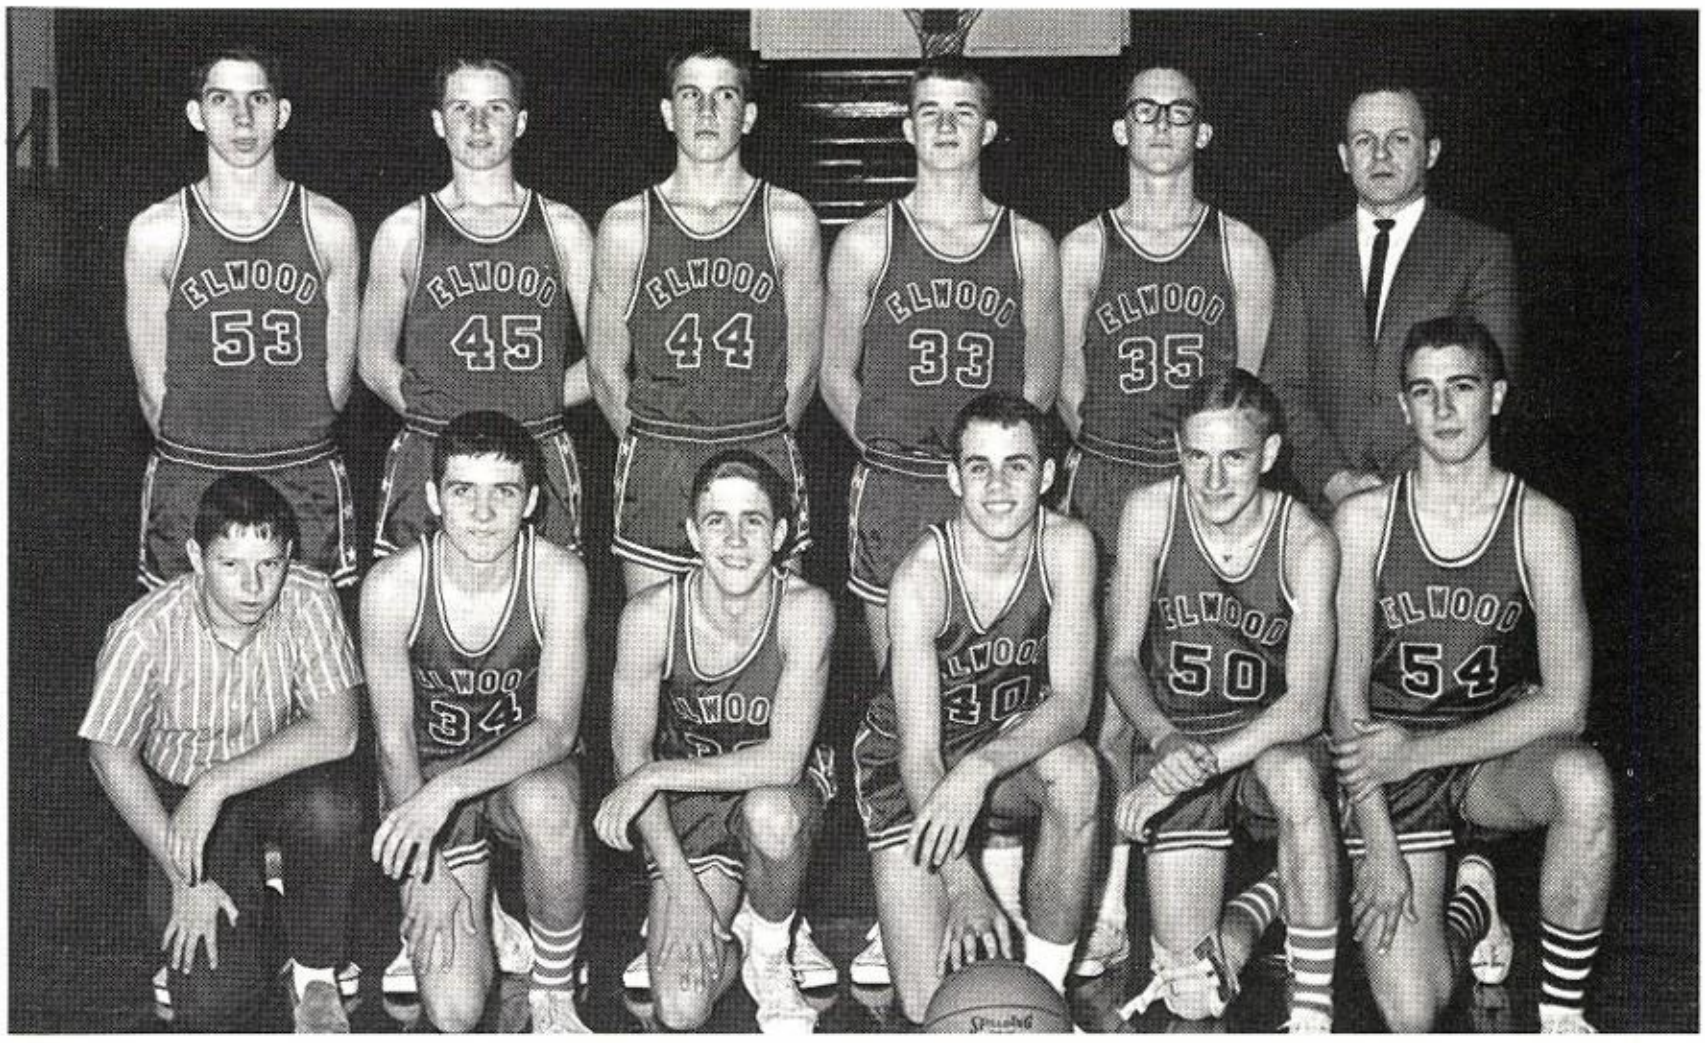
During the Cathedral game Larry Chinn attempts a jump-shot.

The 1964-65 Jr. Varsity cagers climaxed their season with a pleasing 11-9 record. One of the most outstanding hardfought victories was over Peru, the one-time losers. During the Holiday Tourney campaign the Jr. Varsity Crew fell victims to Alex in the championship game.

The freshman netters coached by Jerry Burton consist of two teams, the A and B teams. Altogether they captured 8 wins of their 17 campaigns. Their victories were over such well-regarded teams as Tipton, Mississinewa, and Anderson South Side. The Holiday Tourney brought the freshmen to a very close game with Elwood scoring 43 to Alexandria's 48.

Coach Larry Shook's Jr. Varsity and Jerry Burton's freshman, inspired by experience, look forward to returning to the hardwood.

Again to the Hardwood!



The Freshman "A" team included: BACK ROW: B. Alexander, S. Linegar, E. Smith, M. Mitchell, T. McQuitty, Coach Burton. SEATED: D. Baxter, manager, B. Kelley, H. Huffman, T. Austin, T. Sparks, T. Daily.

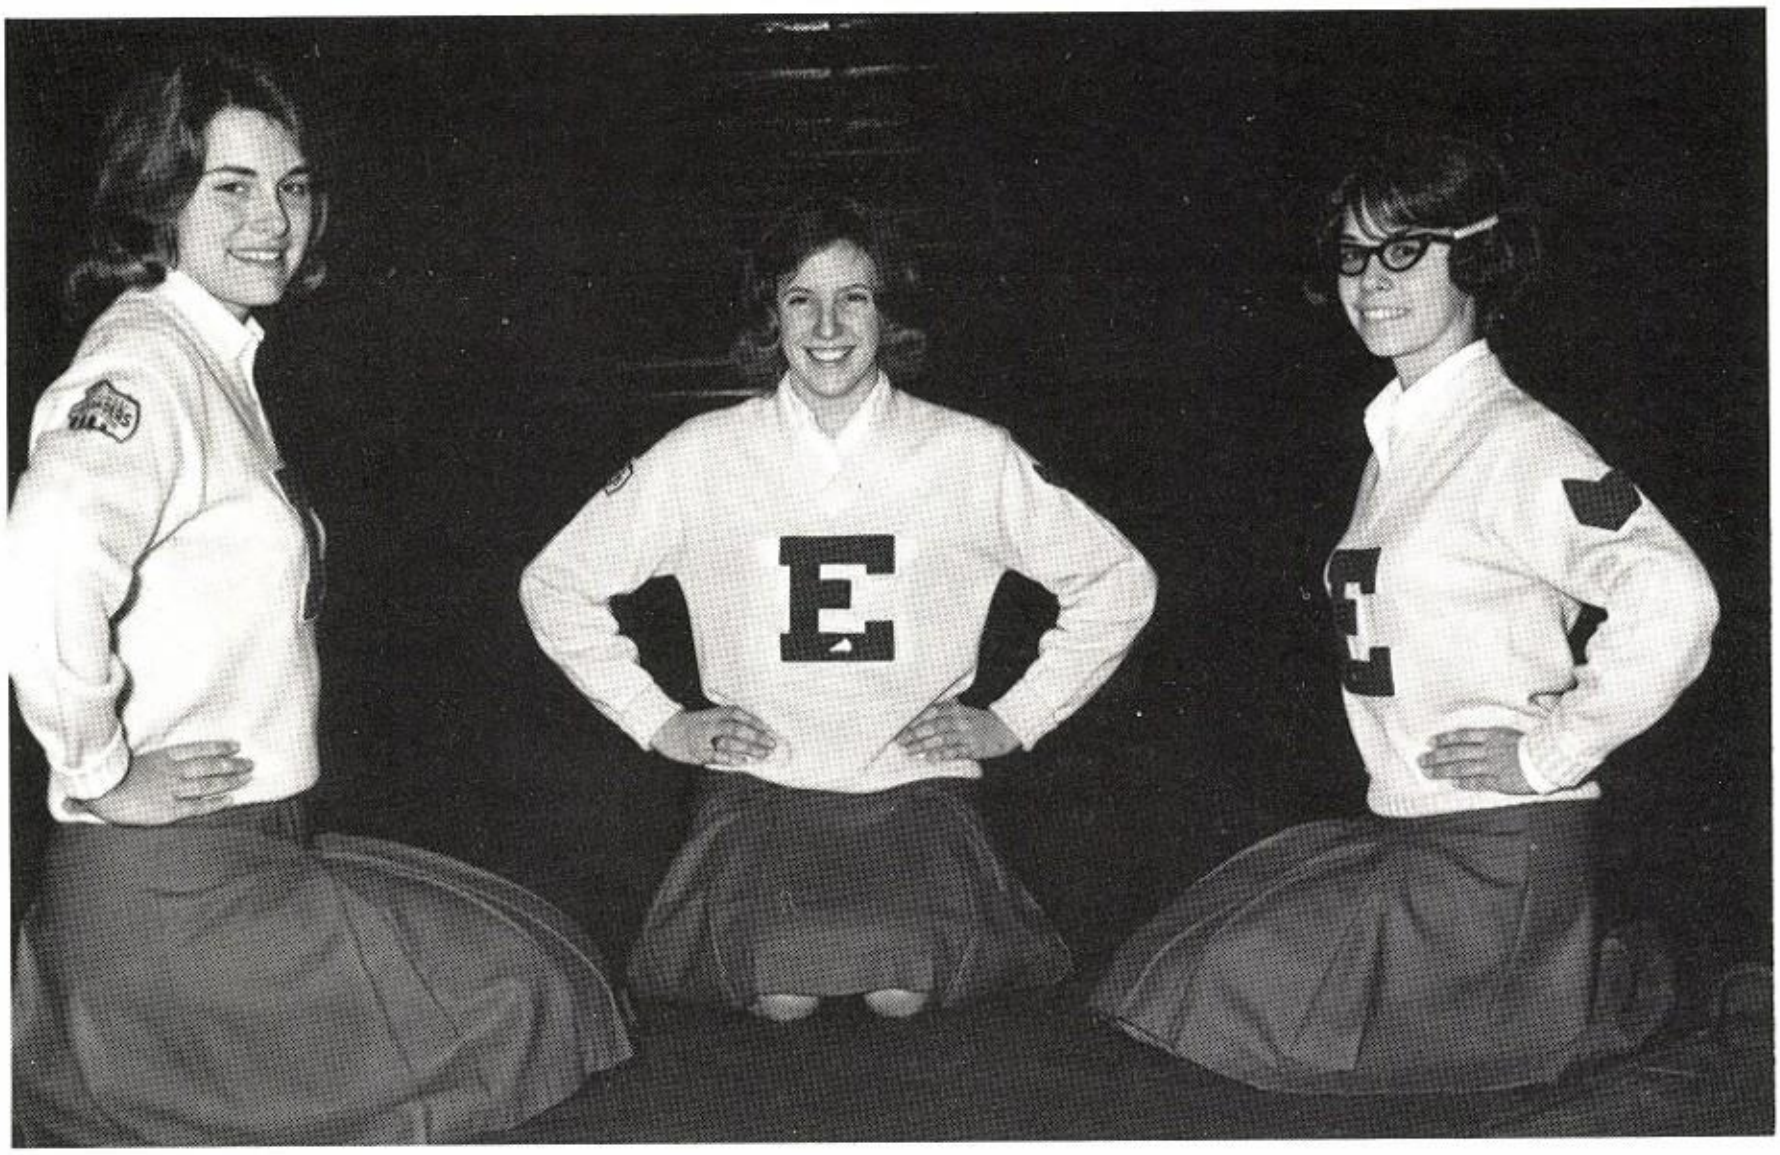
In the second year of its existence, the Gymnastic Club, under the direction of Mr. Mike Johnson, has performed not only for the school but also for the community.

Every Tuesday, and Thursday evening was spent in diligent practice and the attempt to learn and perfect new stunts and exercises. These were in the form of team exhibitions as well as individual exercises. These boys and girls interested in physical fitness are quite popular as a favorite during the halftime shows at basketball games.

A division of gymnastic that is new this year is the gymnastic team. The team consists of five boys, Gary Green, Doug Balser, Randy Duffit, and Steve Wilhoit. They competed in three events; two against Madison Heights and Southport and the third with Muncie Burris.

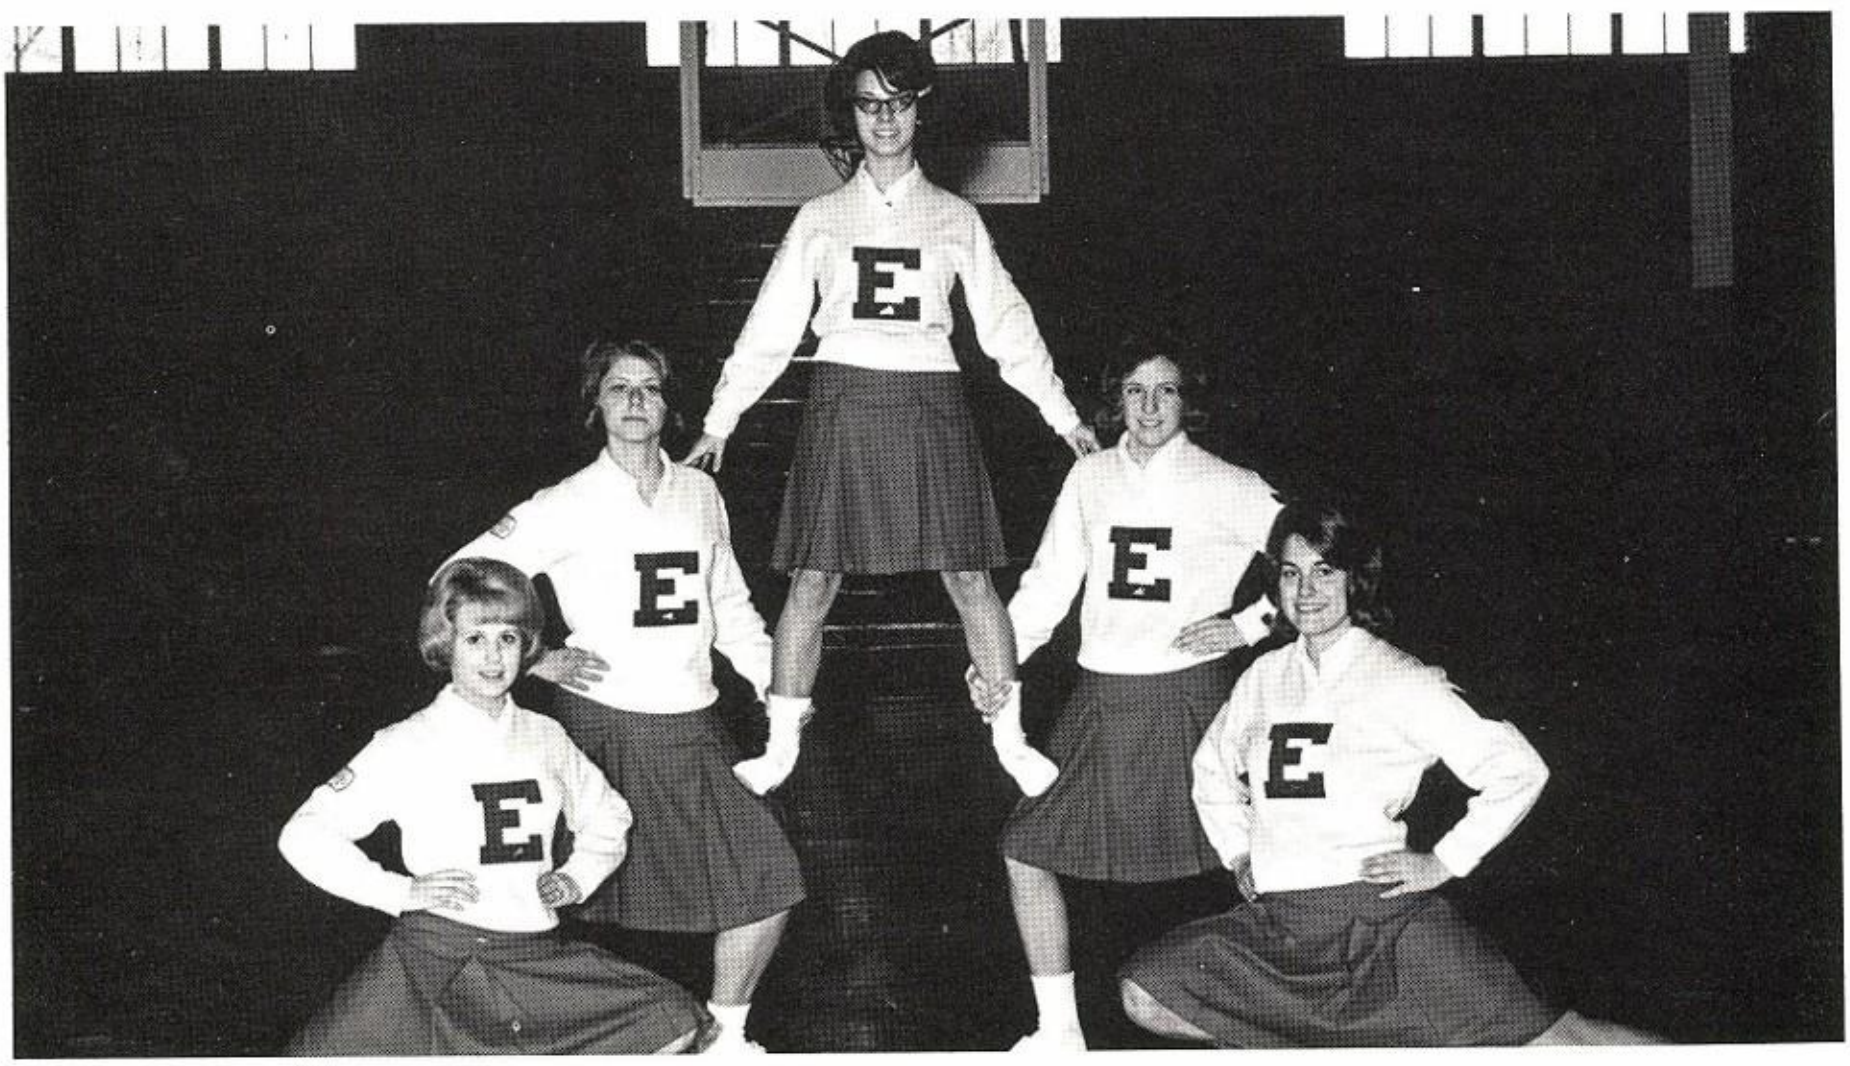
This is a new field in Willkie which is gaining in interest and participation. In the future the group hopes to compete in further meets and gain needed experience.

With Spirit and Energy They Lead



Senior cheerleaders include: Dodi Forst, Martha Oldag, and Sherry Taylor.

Varsity cheerleaders are: Marsha Burton, Marilyn Bambrough, Sherry Taylor, Martha Oldag, and Dodi Forst.



the Mighty Panthers' Battle Cry

B-Team cheerleaders are: Marla Rogers, Sandy Dellinger, Barbara Clouser, and Sherri Gilson.

Wherever there is a ball team there are always cheerleaders. This year's Willkie High Varsity Cheerleaders are Seniors, Martha Oldag, Dodi Forst, and Sherri Taylor, and Juniors Marsha Burton and Marilyn Bambrough.

Pep, enthusiasm, and vitality describe these five girls, who have worked endless hours designing banners and posters, decorating the blackboards and halls, and most important boosting school spirit.

Also seen at the B-Team ball games are the Junior-Varsity cheerleaders, Sandy Dellinger, Barbara Clouser, Marla Rogers, and Sherri Gilson.

For the first time this year the cheerleaders have an alternate, Joyce Mountcastle. In case of illness of one of the cheerleaders the alternate moves into her position so the squad is always complete.

The Freshman cheerleaders for 1964-65 are Vicki Forr, Debbie Beasley, Kris Oldag, and Dianne Rogers. This year the ninth grade cheerleaders were under the new sponsorship of Mrs. Hans Sheridan.

Freshman cheerleaders are: Vicki Foor, Kris Oldag, Dianne Rogers, and Debbie Beasley.

BLONDES BRUNETTES

The minute a person is born he begins to learn and continues to learn until he dies. Almost one hundred percent of all he knows he learns through others.

In Willkie High there are some who are learning, some who are teaching, and some who are making the whole system of education work. In Willkie High there are persons of differing backgrounds, religions, politics, ideas, and abilities, and those with differing personalities. Yet all these join together and call their group Wendell L. Willkie High School.

When each individual takes his place in the world after he leaves high school, he will not remember the assignments, the techniques of learning, and the methods of study nearly as well as he will remember the personalities.

Sophomores and Juniors Incorporate

Car washes, ticket sales, bake sales, and the class play proved to be profitable means of making money for the junior class. They also performed such community projects as washing windows, raking leaves, and passing out hand bills.

The Juniors helped to boost the Panther spirit by selling name tags to the student body. As upperclassmen, the Juniors share the responsibility of setting an example for underclassmen to follow. Leadership and dependability are also placed upon them. All this prepares the juniors for not only the Senior year, but also for years to come.

Through co-operation in these varied and successful projects the Class of '66 progressed with tremendous initiative and insurmountable determination which was climaxed by the number-one social event of the high school year, the Junior-Senior Prom.

Head sponsor for the year was Mr. Miller to whom the class owes a debt of appreciation.

Junior steering committee members SEATED: M. Etchison, S. Pearson, T. Shickley, B. Clouser, M. Bambrough, E. Stevens, and S. Forst. STANDING: B. Keller, T. Cook, S. Poole, J. Marcuson, C. Carlile, Mr. Miller, sponsor, C. Kochman, J. Cornelious, D. Balser, and E. Mangas.

Careful Preparation, Initiative, and Determination

Red and blue cords have been the traditional symbol of sophomore class standing. This year the sophomores proudly took part in electing their first class officers in the high school career. Heading the class in masculine leadership were Bill Bishop, president; Mark Winings, vice-president; John Fortson, secretary; and Lynn Murray, treasurer.

The sophomores decided to take on a major project this year and a minimum of projects their junior year in order to finance their prom. The candy sale proved to be a remarkable success with the profit totaling more than $1,000. Salesmen such as Claude Jackson who sold over $300 worth of candy, contributed to the success of the project.

Head sponsor for the Class of '67 was Mr. Plunkett.

Class officers are: Mark Winings, Bill Bishop, Lynn Murray, and John Fortson.

Steering committee members are FRONT ROW: L. Murray, M. Stevens, and S. Gilson. SECOND ROW: J. Hood, C. Svedson, C. Yarling, K. Cassidy, M. Gardner, and L. Davies. BACK ROW: B. Bishop, J. Fortson, Mr. Plunkett, M. Winings, J. Claghorn, B. Miller, J. Phenegar, and G. Connor.

Be careful, Ray--It's a big job!

Capable Seniors and Sponsors Steer

The door is only a few short steps away. But before we seniors pass through that open portal into the supersonic world of today, we pause, turn, and take a final look at our high school years--year of progress in ideals, intelligence, and goals.

Our Freshman year seemed the longest. During this time, we became accustomed to the daily pattern. We became experts at the "hall-length dash" and borrowing pencils. As a class we showed tremendous potential in athletics and academic work.

As our Sophomore year got under way, we elected Dave Cotton, President, Kay Wolff, Vice-President, Margaret Wingrove, Secretary, and Larry Parker, Treasurer. We became a more unified group. We set our sights on a stupendous prom and began to work to fill the treasury. Sweaters and rings were ordered and we began to feel a strong class unity and school loyalty.

1963 rolled around and as Juniors we really got down to work. We chose Rick Cannon, President, Harry Beeman, Vice-president, Ann Fortson, Secretary, and Martha Oldag, Treasurer. Our first project was a record-setting, three-location car wash which netted us $465. After a successful bake-sale we staged the Junior Class Play, "Our Town," to a sell-out crowd. Again we set a financial record of $501 gross. With a monetary backing we tackled our Prom. "Three Coins in a Fountain" was the theme of our enchanted evening . . . an evening so outstanding that it was given a full, five-page story with pictures in the INDIANAPOLIS STAR SUNDAY MAGAZINE.

Summer slipped quickly into Fall. We began our Senior year. It was hard to believe. The preceding years had gone almost in a twinkling, it seemed. This year we elected with confidence Rick Cannon, President, William Frye, Vice-president, Nina Runyan, Secretary, and Martha Oldag, Treasurer. We charged into our last year with renewed vigor. Margaret Wingrove was our Homecoming Queen.

We began the first two-night performance of the Senior Class Play in our school's history. "Charley's Aunt" was a hit and we recorded another success: namely $667 gross. Our selection of announcements and caps and gowns reminded us of a passing phase in our lives.

As we seniors look back over our years of midnight study vigils, the encouragement of our teachers, friendships, slumber parties, basketball games, popcorn, and dates, a bit of nostalgia mists our eyes. And in you, the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, we see ourselves in years past.

Advertising, a field of communication and its many divisions, is very large and is constantly growing.

By communication is meant the transference of thoughts and of information from person to person. Underlying, as it does, all human cooperation, it has an importance which can scarcely be exaggerated. The initial step and unquestionably the most important in making possible an unimpeded exchange of ideas awas the invention of written language and the advance of our present economic status. In our advertising we express our wants for a free and capitalistic nation. As a nation of freedom we will continue to communicate and advertise for the advancement of our future security.

Elwood's business and industrial leaders are always willing to help in the many activities and the undertakings of Willkie High School and its students.

43. Natural ability or talent for a given work.

47. In support of.

54. A branch of study concerning the observation and classification of facts.

If you've correctly filled in the spaces above, you may have already answered "yes" to the question.

It's for sure you're curious. You're a self-starter who takes pleasure in tackling problems. (We know because you just did!) That gives us something in common.

We at Delco-Remy are always solving "puzzles," looking into the unknown for answers that can improve our products. And why not? We're geared for it.

Our new Engineering and Research facility in Anderson provides our problem-probing team with the most completely equipped center of its kind in the world—including an electron microscope that can magnify samples up to 200,000 diameters ... and a spectrograph that enables us to analyze materials for their metallic elements to an accuracy of one part in a million.

Maybe you'd like to develop things like electronic ignition systems for cars or control devices for missiles. The challenge is great, of course. But so are the rewards and accomplishments.

If you feel at home in Indiana . . . and in a scientific atmosphere, you'll be right at home at Delco-Remy. Look us up after college. We'll keep a couple of problems on ice for you.

(Solution: 43. Aptitude, 47. For, 54. Science)
